

THE ANTIOCH NEWS.

VOL. XXI.

ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1908.

NO. 50

DROWNS IN HARBOR AT WAUKEGAN

Thousands of Spectators Witness Drowning of Julius Neufeld Sunday P. M.

WAS 22 YEARS OF AGE

Shows People How He Can Dive off Boat Only to Meet Death in the Waters of Lake Michigan

Julius Neufeld, aged 22, of 1535 Lincoln avenue, Chicago, soda boy at the Masonic Temple Pharmacy, Randolph and State street, who for the past month has worked on the steel excursion steamship, the Pere Marquette, the ice cream maker, drowned in the harbor at Waukegan, Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Neufeld, upon landing from the steamship secured a bathing suit at the Larsen boat livery and for half an hour amused himself by swimming in the waters south of the south pier. This did not seem to suit the Chicago boy, so he rented a row boat at the livery, rowing out to the harbor, where he would dive to the pleasure of the three thousand or more Chicago excursionists who sat on the decks of the Pere Marquette. Neufeld made one successful dive and returned to the rowboat.

Standing up on the rail of the little boat Neufeld successfully took the second dive but never again did he return to the boat.

When diving the last time he kicked the boat back, just for enough to place it out of his reach. He came to the surface after being under the water but a few moments and commenced to hasten his stroke as if fearing the boat would outdistance him, as the boat was being carried into the lake by the harbor current and the westerly winds.

Suddenly those on the excursion steamer heard him shout for help. His head gradually sank under the water. Again he came to the surface and again he sank after making an attempt to scream for aid.

A third time he arose but a similar fate met his glance. Help had not arrived, he was destined to meet his end.

The boy sank the third and last time while over three thousand passengers on the steamship and over seven hundred Waukeganites looked on in frenzy.

However, there was at last two men at the harbor who did not become excited. One was the captain of the James S. Dunham, the other chief engineer of the same boat. These two marines had been sitting in their rooms on the steamship just in time to see the lad disappear.

Calling two little boys, who were near by in a row boat, the captain ordered that he be taken to the dredge which lay close by. Here the captain made an attempt to secure a steel bar for use as a grappling hook. He was unsuccessful.

Grasping the oars in his own hands, the captain laid all strength upon them, heading the boat toward the boat livery.

Here in a few minutes, with the aid of the engineer, he had rigged a perfect grappling hook. The little row boat was launched again and the task of grappling for the body was commenced. The spot where it had sunk, or just opposite the city warehouse, finally after a half hour's work, the captain drew in the line and tenderly carried the dead body from the lake.

Doctors were summoned and oxygen administered and the body rolled on a barrel, the limbs were rubbed, but for no use. The last spark of life was gone.

Insomnia.

Insomnia is the not uncommon fate of the brainworker who, after years of continuous mental strain, retires from active life. The reason is that mental activity demands a large supply of blood for the brain, and the blood vessels gradually accommodate themselves to this large supply. But when the hard work is over, the brain does not always realize that it needs less nourishment, and hence the condition of excessive mental activity which is what insomnia is.

To Keep Lard Fresh.

To keep lard fresh for several months, stir in about a tablespoonful of honey to every six or eight gallons of lard, after removing the dried fat. Mrs. Russell, Evans, Brownsville, Tenn., in Home Department of National Magazine.

A Naety Man.

Ann Arbor physicians have recently removed a rubber eraser from the ear of a school boy. She must have been trying to get something off her mind. —Washington Post.

PUBLIC LIBRARY FOR ZION $5,000 FIRE

Wealthy Kenosha Will Donate Building as Memorial to Dowie.

Z. G. Simmons, a Kenosha millionaire will donate a public library building to the city of Zion, if the people will take up subscription enough to buy the library of John Alexander Dowie.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the Municipal League in Zion City Friday night and aroused much enthusiasm.

The library building will probably be in the nature of a memorial to Dowie, of whom Mr. Simmons was an ardent admirer, although not a believer in his teachings.

The idea that the Simmons gift will be in the nature of a Dowie memorial is further strengthened by the statement that the Kenosha will probably purchase Shilo House, Dowie's late residence, and install the immense collection of books permanently there, the most fitting place.

This library numbers over 7,000 volumes and includes over forty mahogany book cases costing on an average of about $100 apiece, the original outfit seems to have been about $30,000. The Receiver acting in the interests of the investors, will sell this library to the highest bidder.

The chances are that something like $10,000 or $12,000 would secure this library as a permanent fixture in Zion. Already more than $2,000 have been subscribed.

This library was compiled with much care and contains many works of history, art, travel, religion, geography, exploration, poetry, philosophy, science, theology, literature and fiction.

The people of Zion expect that it will be a great drawing card if they are able to keep this splendid library within their city and every effort will be made to raise the money.

AUTOMOBILISTS ESCAPE POLICE AT LIBERTYVILLE

Two Chicago automobiles fled, escaped from the police in Libertyville Friday evening in a most exciting and unusual manner.

They dashed into the village about dusk at the rate of about sixty miles an hour, and attracted particular attention when they struck a long stretch of freshly laid gravel. The engines were powerful and the wheels spun in the gravel, kicking up a fountain of dirt that spouted across the street. The car careened from side to side and both occupants crouched low as they again dashed on. The driver seemed to devote every effort to getting out of town as quickly as possible. When near the county infirmary they began to waver and finally stopped.

Marshal Limberry, securing a horse followed them as also did many others eager for their capture. The luckless pair had met with fire trouble and had just removed a front tire when they saw their pursuers. They stopped for no more repair work, but throwing the tire into the car, were off again practically on three wheels. There has been much spending through Libertyville this summer and the village board announce that they are going to make a drastic effort to stop it.

HORSE STOLEN FROM STABLE AT GURNEE

W. C. Dalziel of Gurnee, left his stable open Wednesday night of last week, in order to give the stock air, and during the night some one rode off with one of his horses.

Mr. Dalziel believes the horse was taken by someone who desired a ride, rather than that the horse was stolen as there was a much more valuable animal in the next stall.

For this reason he has offered a reward for the return of the animal or information leading to its recovery. He believes that the person who took the horse left it wander away after it had served his purpose.

Consolation for Girls.

Beware of the homely little girl, for she is more than likely to be the hand-somest of her set when she is ready to leave school, and will no doubt remember any slights that were offered her when she was an ugly little duckling. It is seldom that the pretty child grows into a very beautiful woman, and that is no doubt the way nature even-up things.

Friendship.

A slender acquaintance with the world must convince every man that actions, not words, are the true criterion of the attachment of friends; and that the most liberal professions of good will are very far from being the surest marks of it.—George Washington.

Germany's Export of Feathers.

Germany sends 29,000,000 feathers a year to England for millinery purposes.

AT ZION CITY EARLY TUESDAY

Five thousand eight hundred dollars worth of Zion City property was wrapped in flames at ten minutes after one Tuesday morning and before the fire department was able to receive sufficient pressure three of Zion's residences were burned to the ground.

The buildings burned belong to Mrs. Brennen, a Zion widow, whose loss is estimated at $1,500, a Zion City estate residence valued at $1,500, insured for eight hundred dollars and Evangelist Brennen's residence valued at $1,300 on which no insurance was carried.

It is supposed that the fire was caused by a drapey blowing onto a small wick fire in the Brennen residence. The Zion City fire department worked for four hours before sufficient water pressure was realized at the fire to warrant the use of hose.

Three other buildings in the vicinity were badly scorched but were saved by the department.

Fully two thousand people gathered at the scene of the fire where they remained until four o'clock.

Mrs. Brennen escaped from her burning residence by jumping from a window in the second story of the building. Her back was badly sprained but Zion doctors state she will recover. There were no other injuries.

BASE BALL AS PLAYED LAST SUNDAY

A large crowd assembled at Grimm's Park south of Antioch Sunday afternoon to witness the double header event.

The first game, the married men of Antioch vs. the single men of Antioch, was exciting from start to finish. The married men displayed much of their old time skill throughout the game and outclassed the single men at every turn, keeping them down to a tie score till the fifth or last inning when they tallied one more run making the score 3 to 2.

Before the single men next go up against the marrieds, we would advise them to go into training.

The second game was between Antioch Regulars and Kenosha Ramblers and was a walkaway for the home team. They had the best of the game from the start, scoring two runs in the first inning and completely shutting out the Ramblers till the sixth inning when they succeeded in scoring two runs.

The Ramblers played a good game, but the Regulars were in just a little bit better trim and experienced no trouble in putting it over them. The score was 7 to 2 in favor of Antioch.

Today (Thursday) at the Woodman picnic Antioch crossed bats with Orono Junction. This should be a good game as the opposing team is strong and well able to hold its own. You should plan to attend. The game scheduled for next Sunday at Grimm's Park is Antioch Regulars vs. Chicago Stars. You should make it a point to be there.

OLSON WILL WIN OUT AT PRIMARIES SATURDAY

Hon. A. J. Olson of Woodstock, McHenry county, will without doubt be nominated for Senator by the Republican voters of the Eighth Senatorial district on Saturday, August 8th.

He has made the most vigorous campaign ever made in the Eighth Senatorial district. He has mailed to every voter in the district a letter containing a personal pledge as follows:

I hope to receive the nomination for State Senator from this district on Saturday, August 8th, and the nomination will be equivalent to the election. I assure you that if I represent this district at Springfield for the next four years, I shall endeavor to do it in a way that will prove satisfactory to my constituents.

I am particularly interested in the dairy interests of the state, as I am now engaged in the milk and cream business, and have been all my life, and if elected to the State Senate, I shall see that the interests of the dairymen are properly protected and cared for. Much important legislation will also be up for passage within the next four years, and as I have already served four years in the State Legislature, I believe I can properly represent this district in the State Senate at Springfield. It is also very important that the Republicans of this district express their choice on a United States Senator, who is to be elected at the next session of the legislature, and if elected I shall follow the instructions of the voters as to a United States Senator.

The attacks of Shurtleff have reached and the chances favor Shurtleff's defeat for member of Lower House, and Lake county will without doubt obtain one or both of the House members, as Mr. Olson and his friends throughout the district concede that McHenry county is not entitled to Shurtleff at this time, with Olson sure of winning the nomination for Senator.

The vote in Lake county will doubtless be heavy, and Mr. Olson believes he will receive a majority in each of the three counties.

OLSON'S RESIDENCE

The "political rot" that has been published and circulated throughout this district by "Ed" Shurtleff and L. E. Mentch, in reference to the residence of Hon. A. J. Olson of this city, ought to disgust even the most ardent supporters of this pair, who have inseparably linked their political (un) fortunes.

Adulterating every claim made by both, Mr. Olson is clearly entitled to qualify, as the constitution provides that the only residence qualifications is two years at the time of the election.

It can be proven by every person who has lived in the city of Woodstock or surrounding country during the past five years, that ever since the spring of 1903 Mr. and Mrs. Olson have been actual residents of this city, and that neither have, during said time, had, or pretended to have, any other home, residence or domicile.

It can be as easily proven that for ten years prior to that time they lived in the same house (in which they are now living) eight or nine months of each year, only going to Chicago to spend a few of the winter months.

The campaign methods of Mentch and Shurtleff are not such as should be used by men running for the honorable positions they are seeking.

Shurtleff had no business to mix up in the Olson-Mentch fight.

Since he has told the voters of the district that they must elect Mentch over Olson, and that if Mentch is beaten he (Shurtleff) prefers to be also, the voters will probably take him at his word, as it is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Olson (not Mentch) will be nominated by an overwhelming majority.

DISASTEROUS FIRE AT VOLO

Caused By Spontaneous Combustion, smoldered for Days.

After a battle with a stubborn fire lasting fourteen hours in a barn of Frank Paddock, one-half mile east of Volo, Friday, 100 tons of hay were saved from destruction while the balance of the contents, consisting of thirty tons of hay, a quantity of oats and farming implements went up in smoke, causing a loss of several thousand dollars. There was no insurance.

Had it not been for the heroic work of over a hundred farmers who at once rallied to the assistance of Mr. Paddock also the fire departments of Grayslake and Highland Park, it is quite probable that the entire place would have been wiped out. Spontaneous combustion is assigned as the cause of the blaze and such occurrences are almost unknown in fire department circles.

For several days an odor of burning wood and hay was in evidence about Mr. Paddock's residence and store, employees were unable to trace the smoke to its source for several hours, but as it became denser the stable was visited and it was at once apparent that the fire was smoldering beneath the hay.

A heavy scumming was thrust beneath a portion of the building and a space pried open. Volumes of smoke at once belched out and it was evident at once that unless assistance was procured a heavy loss would result. The Grayslake and Highland Park department responded with alacrity and telephone messages to farmers in the surrounding territory brought them in to the number of a hundred or more as fast as their horses could carry them.

Water was scarce but the engine crews did valiant work. The large force at hand saved about one hundred tons of hay, while thirty tons were so badly damaged by smoke, fire and water as to be a total loss.

The blaze was discovered at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon and was not extinguished until 4:30 o'clock Saturday morning, proving to be the most stubborn fire ever fought in that section.

INJURED ON TRAIN AT DEERFIELD

A man giving the name of Kalb was seriously injured in a very unusual manner at Deerfield one day last week. He was stealing a ride on a freight train and was sitting in the door of a box car with his legs hanging out. The train pulled through Deerfield at full speed and a switch target turned over close to the train struck his legs and threw him to the ground and against the rail on the opposite track, splitting a long gash in his head and rendering him unconscious for some time. The engineer on the passenger train due at 6:04 was coming up on the other track and seeing the body stopped and the injured man was taken to Libertyville for medical aid. He recovered sufficiently to spell out his name. Three dollars and some small change was found in his pocket and a slip of paper with the address, Peter Smith, 1731 Wabash Ave., Flat C, Chicago, Ill. He refused or was unable to tell where he lived and from his dress was evidently a laboring man traveling in search of employment.

KENOSHA BOY IS CAPTURED IN EUROPE

After having been trailed by detectives throughout the United States and Europe for nearly a year Harvey T. Wells 21 years of age, son of wealthy Kenosha parents, Thursday was arrested in East Cambridge on a charge of larceny of $6,000 from the First National bank of Kenosha, of which he was the cashier.

Wells disappeared on Oct. 7, 1907. The Pinkerton agency traced him to Chicago, then over the United States into Canada and finally to Europe.

When Wells left Kenosha it is declared he was accompanied by a woman from Chicago and that she was the cause of it all.

Saneness of Insanity.

The "prisoner, charged with homicide, had entered the plea of insanity. "And how long were you insane?" asked the court. "Just three minutes." "That wasn't long." "I found it long enough for my purpose," answered the prisoner, with dignity.

Industry.

Repetition is the mother, not only of study, but also of education. Like the fresco-painter, the teacher lays colors on the wet plaster which ever fades away, and which he must ever renew until they remain and brightly shine.—Richter.

An Undiscovered Art.

No man has yet discovered the means of giving successfully friendly advice to women.—Balzac.

MISSING MAN IS FOUND

Frank Ingalls of Waukegan, Identified as Dead Man Found at Ravinia

JULY 22 BODY WAS FOUND

Crew of Northwestern Freight Train Gives First Clue When Member Reads Description of Missing Man

The mystery of the disappearance of Frank Ingalls of Waukegan was solved Saturday. It was his body that was found mangled on the tracks of the Northwestern on the morning of July 22. An inquest was held on it and it was buried as that of an unknown, no one having come forward to identify it. How Ingalls came to be at Ravinia and along the track is still a mystery as is the fact that in his pocket was a ticket indicating that he was on his way home from Grand Rapids, Mich.

The identification was made beyond a doubt by Edward Ingalls and Coroner Taylor and Conrad.

Mr. Ingalls and Mr. Conrad left for Libertyville on a noon street car and at 2 had gathered the tangled skeins of the week long mystery.

In the watch, the keys, the jack knife and the laundry mark of the dead man Mr. Ingalls identified his brother and later at Highland Park fresh evidences were discovered.

At first sight Mr. Ingalls knew his brother's watch when it was produced by Coroner Taylor, and although he could not identify it by number he knew it by sight. He produced a duplicate for keys found on the dead man and identified the jack knife.

He stated that he thought from the ticket found on the dead man that his brother must have been to Grand Rapids and was returning.

The remains of the dead man, buried at Highland Park, were at once ordered exhumed for positive identification and reburial.

The clue which came through the crew of the Northwestern way freight, was to the effect that a body had been found at Ravinia Park on the morning of July 22 by the brakeman of the train.

This fact was known of before but what was not generally known was that the description answered that of the missing Ingalls perfectly, and at once Deputy Coroner Conrad, Edward Ingalls and the police got on the trail to determine whether or not the body was that of Ingalls.

It is a queer trick of fate that had Deputy Coroner Conrad performed the inquest he would have recognized Ingalls at a glance. He was all ready to go to the morgue when Coroner Taylor decided to go himself, and as he did not know Ingalls he did not identify him.

Brakeman Rankin remembered the description of the body perfectly. Hit by a train, both legs were broken and the head was mutilated.

For Mending China.

For mending china the white of an egg and pulverized unslaked lime is a strong cement. Dip a small brush into the egg white, slightly beat and brush the edges to be joined. Then quickly dust one edge with a little of the lime and place the edges together accurately; hold in place firmly for a couple of minutes, then set aside to dry. This must be done quickly.

Rather Hard on the Dog.

We have broken our dog of a firmly fixed habit of sleeping upon the beds when the family were away by the following simple method: We spread an old sheet over the entire bed and lightly sprinkle it with cayenne pepper. The sheet was left on but one day, and the dog has never attempted to get on a bed since.—Good Housekeeping.

Hal, Hal Laughed Pat.

English John, and Pat, wore two friendly workmen who were constantly tilting, each one trying to outwit the other. "Are you good at monogramming?" asked John. "I am that," said Pat quickly. "Then could you tell me how many shirts I could get out of a yard?" asked John. "Sure," said Pat. "It depends on whose yard you get into."

Good Recipe.

Frosh air and sleep will cure many a trouble, real or artificial. When a woman is tired everything in all the world goes wrong. The stars don't shine right, the sun is tardy, the clouds are heavy. Instead of seeking a change of air, try a change of habits. A little repose will set you right with yourself.

ANTIOCH NEWS

A. B. JOHNSON, Publisher.

ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS.

SEFFY

A ROMANCE OF A PENNSYLVANIA FARM

By JOHN LUTHER LONG

Illustrations by Don Wilson

(Copyright, 1925, by Doubleday Co.)

SYNOPSIS.

The crowding desire in the life of old Baumgartner, a Pennsylvania German, is to obtain possession of the beautiful meadow which lies just between Baumgartner's property and the railroad station. The property in question was inherited by Sarah Pressel, very pretty and athletic young girl, and belonged solely to her. At length Baumgartner came to realize that his only hope of obtaining the property would be through the marriage of his son, Seffy, to Sarah Pressel. In a mock auction "Seffy," as Seffy is called, was sold to the father for $1. He appears utterly unincapacitated to win in any contest of love or life. Sarah Pressel is quite the opposite of Seffy. She is all life and animation. Her one fault is a very high temper. Baumgartner gives Seffy some lessons in courtesy. Baumgartner has caused himself to be appointed guardian of Seffy. Seffy is unable to resist the fascinating wiles of Seffy and he kisses her. She promises him, however, that she will never kiss any man but him. Sam Fritz, a drunken crook, a clerk-old Baumgartner calls him a "molasses-tapper"—calls on Seffy and interrupts the kissing. They go into the parlor and begin a contest. In accordance with the customs of the place and the time, the one who is defeated in such a contest is unworthy the hand of the girl. Seffy goes to sleep and begins snoring. Seffy leaves the room in a huff, saying: "Good night, gentlemen." Seffy tells his father of his humiliation; of how Sam Fritz had pinned to his bosom while he slept a pasteboard tombstone bearing the inscription: "Seffy, son of P. Baumgartner, Jr., went to his rest, June 10, 1871, in the twentieth year of his age. Gone but not forgot. Read backwards."

CHAPTER VI.—Continued.

There was no restraint to his father's laughter now. After it had subsided he asked:

"What did you do with the tombstone?"

"Left it there."

"That's bad, Seffy. He'll put it up at the store and you'll see to there no more."

Seffy's look of horror was a reminder to his father that it would have been better not to say that. But Old Baumgartner had tremendous aplomb.

"Never mind—never mind. Mehby he won't sink of that"—though he knew the store clerk would be certain to think of it.

Upon a sudden thought the old man leaped up.

"And where was Sam? Say! When you woke up?"

"I don't know."

"But he wasn't there at Sally's?"

"No," said Seffy hopelessly.

His father clutched his shoulder and set him on his feet.

"Well—you dam! Little idiot—aha—ha—ha—don't you see that you did set him out—say! Why, you're a wailer, Seffy! I'm proud of you!"

Seffy started and looked a little less inert. His father laughed loudly.

"I knowed you'd do it! Aha—ha—ha! Nobody ken beat a Baumgartner courting a gal! What's sleeping—if you stayed! Huh! You stayed till daylight! Seffy—I'm laughing! Why, I used to sleep when I set up wiser you mammy every time another feller was there. I done it a-purpose! And she'd wake me up when the other feller was gone and it came time for me to go. Why—say—I stayed and slept all night—till broad daylight and go home wiser the cows in the morning—many a time! Yassir! Chust like you, Seffy, you're all right. Goshens, but you had a narrow escape, though! Chust suppose you'd a' woke up and forgot what you was up to—you do that, sometimes, Seffy, when you're dreamy—and gone home before you remembered that you was out-setting him! He'd 'a' had you dead, Seffy, dead and buried in the family lot. But you got him, Seffy, ol' boy—and Sally, too, he-goshens! Shall we get at the fence to-day?" Seffy did not respond. And his father knew better than most of us where suggestion should stop.

"All right. We hose busy to-day. Mehby we better let it be till to-morrow."

Of course Old Baumgartner was well aware that his logic would not bear the least scrutiny. And he regarded Seffy anxiously as he receded through it. But dull happy Seffy saw no flaws in it. He agreed with his father that he had out-set Sam. And if it had not been too plainly accidental, he would have adopted the fancy that he had had a heroic purpose in it—so convincing was his father's logic to his little mind.

The old man rattled on. Seffy must not think much.

"And snoring! Hah! Nossing—nossing at all! I could give you lessons in snoring. And you mammy use to say that she liked it. It wasn't so lonely and she knewed I was on deck and all. Snoring! Aha—hah! What's that—if you are sure of the gal!"

Seffy aghemmed several times and looked less like a condemned malefactor—though still far from subdued.

"That dam! molasses-tapper—he's got to be licked—and if I got to do it myself—though I ain't much of a lick-er. The whole county'll know about that—to-to—" he turned away to smile—"tombstone. I bet he's got it hanging up in the store now! We got to let 'em know that you set him out, Seffy. Yass—stayed till daylight! Woke up and stayed! Sleeping was chust to ketch him! You was awake all the time! Lie a little, bah?"

His father was proud of this last. As they drew apart he called back:

"If she don't like snoring, Seffy, wear a clothes-pin when you set up wiser her—one of them wiser a spring—not! Aha—hah!" And then: "You all right, Seffy—yassir! you all right—you the conquering hero comes! Go right back—mehby to-night—you entitled to do it."

"Goshens, I will!" said Seffy in his father's own slogan.

Seffy would have pressed his suit even without this, I think—because of those moments in the dark parlor. One does not soon forget that sort of thing.

"Now," advised his father, "you know well enough what kind of a temper goes wiser her hair—I use to hat hair enough once—and it was red! All right when it's on your side. But holl when it's ag'in you. Them red-heads always regrets—I do and she does! Say—Seffy—Seffy, don't you let her regret in vain—ketch her while she's at it."

So, Seffy went up the hill again—not that night—which was a mistake—he could not quite bring himself to that—but the next. And he had washed the grease out of his hair and left the hat at home as well as the butterfly tie and the boots and, if I do say it, he was a very handsome fellow, worth at least a dozen of his rival.

But Sally, watching for this very thing, saw him coming and hardened her heart, as Pharaoh did in the face of proffered felicity, and by a good deal of forcible instruction, she succeeded in getting the little maid to say that she was not at home. The mild's untutored face showed Seffy that she was not telling the truth, however, and she was not sorry for it. She would never have treated Seffy so!

Seffy shifted his hat from one hand to the other and then said:

"Tell her—tell her—when she comes home—that I'm sorry—" He did not exactly know what he was sorry for, and so said good night and went.

"He knowed you was at home!" reproached the little maid. "He was sorry for you."

"What did he say?" demanded Sally savagely.

"To tell you that he was sorry—when you got home."

"When I got home? Then I better stay away, I expect. That's what he meant, did he? Well, I'll show him!" But the maid understood Seffy's rustic chivalry and she did not laugh with her mistress.

Yet, Sally went back to her window and again watched, hoping Seffy would look back. She was not quite sure what she would do. Perhaps she would get angry—perhaps—But if he would only look! He did not, and Sally understood that he had accepted his congo as she had given it. And quite as the old man had said, she did regret, now, and she had regretted that other night. But there was more penance than he had said of thought. Yet—there was the Pressel thought. And it did not await the subsidence of the sorrow, but rose at once. What business had he tamely to accept the situation?

I am satisfied that there is some connection between red hair and temper. And I am, further, satisfied that there is even more between the associated ideas of red hair, temper and regret. But my difficulty is to determine just where each stands. Logically, the regret ought to come last. But, to Sally, which go with red hair, pride, prevented this. She coughed a little and Seffy flew around.

"I was just taking a walk," she said.

"Yes," said Seffy humbly.

"The Polson spring is—on my property—"

"I'll go away!" said Seffy, rising. He looked gaunt as he stood on his feet in the moonlight.

"Seffy—I didn't mean—" began the really unhappy girl, her head quite giving way to her heart now.

"I got nowhere else to go now," exclaimed Seffy. "I can't go to the store—Sam's got the tombstone there—or anywhere where there's people—account everywhere knows. Sam's got a notice of it hung up in the store. It's all they talk about. He got it printed in the paper, too! I'd go away, out west, but pappy don't want me to go. I come here, account no one else ever comes—it's unhealthy. I didn't know that you owned—" He was shaming off. The last words came from a distance. "Good night."

He did not know that Sally was following him. When she spoke it was close behind him. He veered so suddenly as to catch the pain in her face. But he was dull, Seffy.

"Seffy," she said, close upon him, "Seffy, I was at home."

Seffy said nothing.

"Seffy—I am unhappy—and a fool!" Still Seffy did not move nor speak.

"Don't you care that I am unhappy?"

"Still silence."

"And don't you never forgive me one?"

At the end was a sob.

Ah! Seffy could not harbor ill against a girl that had hit him. And Sally sobbed. The hands he had kissed before, he kissed again—in that fashion, you will remember, which must have survived from some cavalier ancestor.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

FIFTY RUPEES EASILY MADE.

Tricky Indian Merchant Feared Inquisitive Stranger.

An Indian merchant wished to dispose of an old elephant and took it to a fair. As soon as he had arrived he noticed a man who, without saying a word, began to walk round the animal, examining it attentively on all sides. The merchant became very anxious, for he feared the man had found out that his elephant was not worth much. He took him aside and whispered in his ear: "I see a customer coming. Do not say a word until I have sold the beast and I will give you 50 rupees." The man looked at the merchant and wonderingly complied with his request. It happened that the customer had more money than sense, so that he was easily taken in. When the bargain was completed and the elephant led away by its new owner, the merchant handed the 50 rupees to the silent man, saying: "Now, I want you to tell me how you discovered the defect in his left leg. I thought I had concealed it so skillfully." "I have discovered nothing," replied the stranger. "It is the first elephant I have ever seen, and I wanted to know which was the head and which was the tail."—Exchange.

Defense That Failed.

"I was not," said a lady at a Manchester police court, "using bad language. I was too well dressed and respectable." The bench, which seems not to understand the implied argument of the moral effect of good clothing upon the wearer, imposed a fine.—London Daily News.

VII.

The Polson Spring in the Cotton Weeds.

They met on the damp country road one evening—Sally and the old man—two weeks later. She was walking with drooping head, and when she suddenly raised it, as he approached, he was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

"Seffy—Seffy—my Seffy. No—not exactly—not to say sick. I like him so—he's all I got—and it's something wrong wiser him. He can't live long this way. Every night he's down by the Polson spring—wiser the witches—often all night. He's there now. I chust kem away—trying to cheer him up a little. Well, so good night."

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone.

A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities

was quite sure that she had been crying.

"I don't know what's the matter wiser him!" said Seffy's father, as if they had been discussing Seffy.

"Who?" asked the girl tremulously—though she knew—"he ain't sick?"

Happenings of Illinois

ROOSEVELT IS DEFIED

Chicago and Alton Crowd Out Away With Goods and Laughed at Him.

DENEEN DID NOT AOT IN CASE

Inside Story of Well Remembered Visit to Washington.

Effort of Illinois Governor to Make People Believe Visit Was to Consult Him on Politics—Gamblers Laugh.

Washington, D. C., July 20, 1908.—If President Roosevelt could be persuaded to depart from his rule of non-interference in state politics, he doubtless would have something to say to the voters of Illinois that would disclose the intentions of Governor Deneen in a new and sinister aspect. The president has his suspicions of Governor Deneen's good faith as a public official, whose acts are not in accordance with his promises.

Deneen Was Sent For.
The president had occasion to send for Deneen about a year and a half ago and Deneen went to Washington. At that time the Interstate Commerce Commission was conducting a searching inquiry into the affairs of the Chicago & Alton railroad. It had brought to light a story of financial jugglery and revealed a tale in connection with the achievements of the manipulation of high finance. It disclosed how a solvent property was swamped by a flood of securities, bonds and stocks, to the amount of thirty million dollars, and how, by an organized campaign of deception, carried on through the columns of the newspapers of the country, these worthless securities were sold to innocent investors at prices varying from five to ten times their real value. It was shown that one branch line of the Alton was capitalized at the rate of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars per mile and the securities representing such capitalization issued and distributed to the public at fictitious prices before a square foot of ground had been broken for the purpose of laying a rail.

Shameful Story of Fraud.
This shameful story of deception and fraud stirred President Roosevelt's wrath as no other incident which had come within his observation had stirred it. He commanded the attorney general of the United States to submit the views and disclosures by the Interstate Commerce Commission to a federal grand jury with a view to having the persons responsible indicted and punished.

Power With State.
The attorney general, Mr. Bonaparte, after much research of the law, informed the president that there was no statute in the revised code of the United States under which federal authorities could proceed against the persons accused of this great crime, but he also informed the president that the law of the state of Illinois amply covered the offense and that if Governor Deneen desired to vindicate that law he could put every man responsible, directly for the great crime, in the penitentiary. That opinion by his attorney general constituted the reason why President Roosevelt sent for Deneen. It will be recalled that Deneen took occasion to spread the report for and wide that the president had sent for him. The newspapers of the country disclosed it as an affair of vital political significance. Deneen encouraged this view of the incident upon the assumption that it would be to his own political credit.

Deneen Plumed Himself.
In other words Deneen seemed to regard it as a good thing for himself to have President Roosevelt request him to come to Washington. Deneen has never told about what occurred between himself and the president and the president has been silent because he did not want to add to the strife then existing in the Republican party of Illinois. During the conference between the president and Deneen at the White House, the president calmly, but forcibly, pressed to his visitor the facts of the Chicago & Alton case and urged Deneen, upon his return, to take steps without loss of time to vindicate the law. Deneen returned to Springfield. From that day to this he has made no public statement concerning what passed between them.

He has neglected to take a single step to find who was responsible for that crime, while the guilty ones are laughing at the president and congratulating themselves that Illinois has such a discriminating governor.

Tale Told Some Day.
Some day when Theodore Roosevelt writes his memoirs, those of us who will enjoy the privilege of reading them will find among the list of historical and professional data which he will set out a vigorous reference to the governor of Illinois who refused to perform a plain duty. It is a pity that the president has felt constrained to maintain silence on this subject. It is not his habit to shield hypocrites.

VETERANS FOR YATES
Yates will have the united support of the old soldiers of the sixties. They remember the war governor as the soldier's friend, and they see in "Dick" Yates Jr., the same principles and pride for his state and country.—Springfield Advance-Gazette.

COMES BACK AT OLSON

Representative Edward D.
Shurtleff Brings Forth Strong Evidence

INTRODUCES AFFIDAVITS

Also Produces Newspaper Clippings Reflecting on His Political Career in the City of Chicago

Marengo, Ill., July 25, 1908.
Hon. A. J. Olson, Woodstock, Ill.,

Dear Sir:
In a published statement over your signature, dated July 23, 1908, headed "Olson's Answer to Shurtleff's Attack," you state: "If my name appeared as a Cook County delegate to any convention after the primaries for governor in 1904, it was without my knowledge or consent."

The primary election ballot for Republican delegates voted at the 6th delegate district, comprising election precincts 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29 of the 22nd ward of the city of Chicago, at the primary election held August 4, 1906, bears the name of Albert J. Olson and Samuel E. Erickson as delegates to the state convention, and it also bears the names of Samuel E. Erickson, Albert J. Olson, Frank O. Desaix and B. A. Nelson as delegates to the county convention in Cook county, Illinois.

The Chicago City Directory of 1905 gives: "Olson Albert J. milk 261 N. Franklin."

I have caused to be filed with the county clerks of Lake, McHenry and Boone counties a certificate issued by the Board of Election Commissioners of the city of Chicago, Illinois, as follows:

"List of persons voting at the Republican Primary Election August 4, 1906."

"22nd Ward."

And on page 4 is the following:

"Franklin St.

"261—OLSON A. J.

"269—Gustavson-Oscar

"299—Larson O. W."

"State of Illinois, County of Cook, ss.

"This is to certify that the foregoing list of voters at the Republican Primary of August 4, 1906, was prepared by this office from the original poll books used at said primary."

"Isaac N. Powell,

"Chief Clerk."

This is the official list of all persons voting in the 22nd Ward at the primary election of August 4, 1906; and as it has been a matter of such general repute in the city of Chicago and through the directories that your place of business before and at about this time was No. 261 North Franklin street, WILL YOU EXPLAIN TO THE VOTERS OF THE EIGHTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT HOW YOU COULD HAVE VOTED YOUR OWN DELEGATE BALLOT WITH YOUR NAME ON THE BALLOT AS A STATE DELEGATE, AND AS A COUNTY DELEGATE AND NOT HAVE KNOWN IT?

You further state in your circular as follows: "I voted at the Smiley-Gilmore primaries in Woodstock in August, 1906, which can be proved by Judge Smiley."

It is a well known fact that the primary election on August 4, 1906, was an official election, poll books were kept, and the names of voters registered under the law. I submit a certificate of Mr. George F. Rushton, county clerk of McHenry county, Illinois, as to your voting at the Smiley-Gilmore primary, which was held under the forms of law, August 4, 1906, in McHenry county, and it shows that you did not vote at that primary.

CERTIFICATE
State of Illinois, McHenry County, ss. Office of the County Clerk.

"I, George F. Rushton, do hereby certify that I am the county clerk of McHenry county, Illinois, duly qualified and acting and was such county clerk on the 4th day of August, A. D. 1906, and have been such clerk ever since said time.

"I further certify that I have fully examined the original poll books used at the primary election in the third election district of the township of Dorr, of said McHenry county, at said primary election, and that on the poll books of said election district and of the other election districts of the said township of Dorr, at said primary, which I have fully examined, there does not appear the name of Albert J. Olson, Albert Olson, A. Olson, or any other name describing Albert J. Olson as a voter at said primary election, and that if the said Albert J. Olson voted at said primary election in the said township of Dorr on August 4, 1906, his name was not recorded by the clerks on the poll books of said election.

"I further certify that the records show that at said primary election David T. Smiley of Woodstock, Illinois, was nominated as the Republican candidate for County Judge.

"G. F. Rushton,
"County Clerk of McHenry county, Illinois." (SEAL)

Also consult Judge Smiley yourself as to whether you voted in that primary.

Will you explain to the voters of the Eighth Senatorial District when and where you voted for Judge Smiley in the Smiley-Gilmore contest, or when you ever voted in McHenry county prior to November, 1906?

In the city of Chicago, on April 28, 1906, another primary election was held to select delegates to a judicial convention, to select one Republican candidate for Supreme Court Judge, and I believe, one or two other judges. The records show that you were voted for as a delegate and elected to this convention, and it was the delegates selected to this convention, upon their election, that selected the Republican county central committee from the 22nd ward of the city of Chicago, and in which was the celebrated fight between Samuel E. Erickson and B. F. Clettenberg for control of the ward.

During this contest, Mr. Erickson and Mr. Clettenberg were both members of the Legislature, and I knew from them, at the time, from Mayor Busse, from Mr. Kilcourse and from Dr. Frank W. Lambden, and from many other prominent men of Chicago, that you were actively engaged in that contest and sought with Mr. Erickson to get control of the ward. I submit herewith a statement signed by Mr. A. L. Lambden as to your connection with this contest in April, 1906. The statement speaks for itself.

Statement made by A. L. Lambden, now residing at 902 Walnut street, in the city of Chicago.

"I am acquainted with A. J. Olson, who is now running for state senator in the 8th senatorial district, and who formerly lived in the 22nd ward of the city of Chicago. I am also acquainted with Frank J. Chaiser, and have known both Chaiser and Olson for over fifteen years past.

"Two days before the April primaries, 1906, these men met at the North Side Turner Hall: A. J. Olson, Frank J. Chaiser, Martin Mullen and Dr. Frank W. Lambden, and A. J. Olson proposed that they should divide the patronage of the north and south ends of the ward, and said that there would be no trouble about it. It was decided to be for Sam Erickson for committeeman from the 22nd ward. Mullen was a walking delegate for the Teamsters' Union, and it was agreed that he should go to Dr. Lambden and Olson and get money as he needed it. Mullen agreed to deliver his precinct. In the campaign Dr. Lambden and A. J. Olson both spent considerable money. The doctor spent about six or seven hundred dollars. Chaiser was to have the patronage of the north end of the ward and Olson the south end. Dr. Lambden did not care for any patronage, as he lived outside of the ward. Erickson agreed, if he was elected committeeman, to let Olson and Chaiser run the patronage.

"This Frank Chaiser is the same person who was cashier for John A. Linn while Linn was clerk of the Superior court. He turned state's evidence against Linn and caused Linn's indictment, and confessed in court that he was the person who had changed the books and records, by which Linn got the money.

"After Linn was sent to Joliet Olson bought a half interest in a saloon and restaurant at 11 State street for Chaiser and said he put in six thousand dollars. Chaiser did not stay there long, but sold out and took a position from Olson as a salesman, soliciting milk orders in bulk, and is now in the milk business at the corner of Oak and Chestnut streets, at Olson's old stand, under the name of F. J. Chaiser & Company, but Olson is a silent partner, backing Chaiser up.

"A. L. Lambden,

902 Walnut St.,

Chicago."

And if this is not sufficient, I attach hereto editorials from the Chicago Chronicle, the Chicago Daily News and the Chicago Evening Post, showing not only that you were connected with this contest in the 22nd ward of Chicago, in April, 1906, but that it was YOUR contest.

As to the other statements in your reply, charging me with falsification, I shall not go into them, but leave it to yourself and your conscience to settle in any way that you see fit, as to what you have said or done, or have not said or done. But as you have been so violently mistaken as to the above matters, it is more than possible that you may be mistaken as to the remainder.

I have no desire whatever to do you any injury, but the people of the Eighth Senatorial district are entitled to know the truth and form their judgment upon the truth and not to be misled by things that are not the truth. Mr. Olson, under all of these circumstances, don't you think that you should retire from the race for state senator in favor of Mr. L. E. Mentch? Aren't you the man who is keeping McHenry county from having a State Senator?

Very respectfully,
Edward D. Shurtleff.

(Chicago Evening post, Friday, April 27, 1906.)

BATTLE FOR POWER IN A WARD CONTEST

Interest in Judiciary Primaries Tomorrow Centers in a Fight in the Twenty-second

DENEEN CROWD VS. BUSSE

Fight by Governor's Friends to Curtail the Postmaster's Influence on the North Side

In preparing for the judicial primaries set for to-morrow, Republican county leaders say the only contest will be in the Twenty-second ward, but the indications are that the fight there will be a battle royal. It is not, however, a contest over the nominee to be placed on either ticket, the participants in the struggle being solely interested in securing control of the ward committee.

Representative Bernard F. Clettenberg, an ally of Postmaster Fred A. Busse, is a candidate for the leadership held by John A. Linn, and opposed to him is Albert J. Olson, former alderman and state representative, whose public record has been condemned by the Municipal and Legislative Voters' League.

The chief interest in the fight is the fact that it has dragged Postmaster Busse into the fray. Reports are circulated also that certain members of the Deneen-West combination are fighting Busse through Olson, to prevent the postmaster from retaining control of the solid North Side.

Fight on Busse's Power.

The word has gone out that Clettenberg must be defeated because he is Busse's friend, and in order to clip the postmaster's wings in county politics. Mr. Busse has accepted the challenge and no matter how the fight results, it is likely to have a far-reaching effect on the local situation, as tending to widen the breach between the Busse combination and Governor Deneen's wing.

Representative Clettenberg today mailed a circular to every Republican voter in the ward asking: "Do you want to be honestly represented? Frank Chaiser, A. J. Olson and Sam Erickson represent themselves. Bernard F. Clettenberg will represent you. A vote for Clettenberg means a vote for decent administration of party affairs."

Erickson is Clettenberg's colleague in the legislature, and Chaiser was cashier in Linn's office. Both are working for Olson under the direction of a Deneen lieutenant who, with Sheriff Pease, would like to see Busse's influence in North Side politics curtailed.

(Chicago Daily News, Friday, April 27, 1906.)

PRIMARIES ARE ON TO-MORROW

Republicans Will Contest at Polls—Lafayette Back from South

Republican judiciary primaries are to be held to-morrow. In the 22nd ward, where the seat in the republican county committee relinquished by John A. Linn is to be filled, looms the only contest of consequence. In the 13th ward, where rival republican factions have fought with bloodshed and death recently, a truce has been declared and no trouble is looked for. In the 22nd ward the contest for committeeman lies between Representative B. F. Clettenberg and Samuel E. Erickson. Erickson is backed by A. J. Olson, formerly a representative and an alderman. Circulars have been distributed throughout the ward giving the endorsement of Clettenberg by the Legislative Voters' League report for 1901, and the condemnation of Olson by the Municipal Voters' League in 1900 and 1902. Postmaster Busse is behind Clettenberg, and with the election of his candidate will get control of the only ward in the north town which has not owed allegiance to him.

(Chronicle, Sunday, April 29, 1906)

CLETENBERG WINS IN PRIMARIES

Republican primary elections were held yesterday in the city and Cicero, but the only contest of importance was in the twenty-second ward, where Bernard F. Clettenberg won a bitter fight against Samuel E. Erickson and ex-alderman Albert J. Olson, capturing seventeen out of twenty-four delegates.

The contest was over the county committee to succeed John A. Linn, who within a week will begin serving an indeterminate sentence in the Joliet penitentiary. Although the struggle was nominally between Representative Clettenberg on one side and Representative Erickson and ex-alderman Olson on the other, the real battle was between Postmaster Fred A. Busse and his political rivals in the Linn ward.

By his victory of yesterday Mr. Busse establishes his supremacy as a party leader in the twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth wards and will go into the convention tomorrow with seventy-seven delegates. Mr. Busse made a hard fight against great odds and his triumph doubtless will add much to his prestige as a leader in the republican county organization.

The Busse-Clettenberg combination carried five out of seven primary districts in the twenty-second ward and the postmaster is now the undisputed boss of the town of North Chicago.

Twenty-second Polls Heavy Vote

Of 11,939 votes cast in the city and Cicero nearly 2,500 were cast by the Twenty-second ward, or more votes than were polled in the ward primaries of May 6, 1904, when Deneen and Lowden were battling for the republican gubernatorial nomination. Erickson and Olson evidently tried to overthrow Busse, Erickson running as a candidate for committeeman in the Swedish districts and Olson in the Irish districts. Erickson carried his own district, the sixth, and his combination carried the fifth or Pohlmann district; the rest went to Busse and his organization.

HOPKINS-ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGN

Great Crowds Attend the Senator's Meetings in All Sections of the State

Senator Hopkins' campaign thus far has exceeded the expectations of his most optimistic friends. It has proved that so far as the republican voters of the State of Illinois are concerned, there is only one candidate for the United States Senate. They have turned out to hear him in such large numbers that in many places the senator was compelled to abandon the program of his managers for indoor meetings and hold meetings in the open air. This was notably the case at Springfield and Danville. It was hard on the senator's voice. He came back to Chicago on Sunday scarcely able to articulate, but very happy and satisfied that he will be victorious on August 8th. One of the most satisfactory aspects of the senator's fight is found in the fact that it is not even remotely involved in factional contests, which are going forward in connection with the rush for nominations for state officers. Men who can not agree upon a candidate for governor, whose differences concerning candidates for state auditor, secretary of state and state treasurer are irreconcilable, are a unit in their support of Senator Hopkins. The reason for this seeming unanimity is found in the fact that the rank and file of the party are demanding the nomination and re-election of Senator Hopkins. His fine record shows that he has been an industrious, persevering and unselfish member of congress and has become known to every republican voter of the state, with the result that no other candidate is considered a serious possibility. By the time the senator reaches Cook county for the closing days of his fight all opposition to him will have been practically swept away. That opposition was never serious, never organized, never threatening and it will grow less and less important as the campaign draws to a close.

USEFUL MEMBER OF SENATE

Mr. Hopkins is one of the brainy men of the senate, and is one of its useful members. He is seeking a re-election on his record as a faithful, honest and impartial public servant and on this record he should and we believe will receive a handsome endorsement. As a man he ranks with the best and noblest citizens of the great state which he serves so well. As a true and faithful servant of the people he has accomplished without flourish of trumpets more than many so-called reformers.—Flora Journal.

Diet for Cyclists.

Cyclists will be interested to hear that a doctor has been investigating nutriment for a long distance ride, and has concluded that no meat or other nitrogenous food should be taken while doing the day's work, but that the ideal refreshment is fruit and milk.

HOPKINS NEEDED AT WASHINGTON

His Support of the Waterways and Other Projects Is Vitally Necessary.

The Senator's Influence Is a Determining Factor in Securing Favorable Action on Illinois Projects.

Washington, D. C., July, 1908.

In the very near future, perhaps during the forthcoming session of congress, legislation of vital interest to Illinois will be given earnest consideration. Not the least important of this legislation will appertain to the waterway project, by which it is proposed to connect the Great Lakes with the Gulf of Mexico. Senator Hopkins is already on record concerning that project. His influence and his work as a member of the committee on commerce and his industry were largely responsible for the success already achieved in procuring appropriations to conduct surveys of the contemplated route. Representative Lorimer, who has been conducting the independent waterway campaign in Illinois and adjacent states, proposes at the forthcoming session of congress to introduce a bill appropriating not less than one million dollars to begin the work. That bill may or may not be favorably recommended by the house committee on rivers and harbors. Mr. Burton, chairman of the committee, is not favorable to the waterway scheme. He has fought it consistently and insistently from the beginning. He has thrown the weight of his influence as chairman of the committee against it every time it has been brought into congress. It is on this account that Senator Hopkins' membership on the committee on commerce is of the utmost value and importance to Illinois, because it places him in a position to secure an unprejudiced opinion on the methods of the waterway project. The Senator is an ardent advocate of the waterway. He believes it is a great thing for the state, for Chicago and, indeed, for the whole Mississippi Valley. With his advocacy and support, it has a chance to win; without him it is likely to perish, as have thousands of other projects which were lacking the support of virile and forceful men like Senator Hopkins. When Burton succeeded in the house committee several years ago in smothering the first appropriation for the waterway Senator Hopkins had it inserted into the bill of the committee on commerce and the senate endorsed the committee's work. He will do the same thing again. This illustrates the desirability of the state having a senator of long service, a man whose influence is powerful, either by reason of his important committee assignments or because of his standing with his colleagues, or both. It would be difficult to estimate the harm that would be done by the substitution of a new and inexperienced senator for a senator with the experience of either Senator Hopkins or Cullom. A new man rarely ever makes much progress or headway by reason of the fact that he must content himself with unimportant committee assignments, unless, of course, he is, like Senator Hopkins or Cullom, a man of unusual talents and character. Unfortunately, however, for the states such men do not appear in the public arena more than once in a generation. There are other things of vital importance to Illinois pending, in the determination of which Senator Hopkins will have a voice, and it is not an exaggeration to say Illinois will need his experience and influence.

ROOSEVELT WANTS HOPKINS.

The Senator's Re-election Will Please the President—What He Said to the Senator.

It is not a violation of good faith to say that President Roosevelt is intensely interested in the senatorial campaign now under way in Illinois, and that he will be overjoyed when he hears the news that Senator Hopkins has been triumphantly re-nominated by the people. The President has learned to regard Hopkins as the most useful man in congress and he relies upon him with greater trust for the performance of duties that relate directly to the policies of his administration than upon any other man in either house of congress. How keenly the president is alive to the situation in Illinois and how much he desires that Senator Hopkins shall be re-elected was illustrated by his remark to the Senator when he urged him to become chairman of the committee on resolutions of the republican national convention.

"You are a candidate for re-election, senator," said the president. "This distinction which Secretary Taft and myself are urging upon you ought to be a help to you in the eyes of your constituents. At any rate, I sincerely hope it will, because I am keenly desirous that you shall be returned to the Senate."

That is the way the president regards the senator's aspirations. It furnishes an accurate key to his feelings and ought to enable the republican voters of the state of Illinois to comprehend how much the president thinks of the senator.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS.

ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS.

A REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY
A. D. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

By Mail, One Dollar per Year, in Advance

Telephone, Antioch No. 402.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Deneen meeting held here on Thursday of last week was not very largely attended, and the indications are that there will be a very light vote cast for him in this locality.

Saturday of this week is election day for the trying out of the new primary law. Let every voter come to the polls at some time during the day and see how large a vote can be cast for your favorite candidate.

At the Waneggan Day celebration held on Monday Ex-Governor Richard Yates was the center of attraction and his speech was listened to by one of the largest crowds in the history of that city, and he was cheered as the next governor of Illinois.

Saturday, August 8, the all important day to the numerous candidates for the various offices, is rapidly drawing near, and as it approaches, politics are almost at a white heat. So much has already been said both for and against the various candidates that little remains to be told. But we see no reason why the voters of the tenth congressional district should not give their support to our present Congressman, George Edmund Foss, to again represent this district in congress. He has been faithful to his constituents and served this district well, and has by his own ability risen to chairman of one of the most important committees of that body. In other words "he has been tried and not found wanting." Under the primary law any Republican, upon filing his petition signed by the requisite number of electors of his party, can present his name for United States Senator for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the people throughout the state thereon. In response to requests from a great number of Republicans of our district and all over the state, he consented to so present his name. This vote, under the law, is advisory. The legislature, under the constitution, must elect.

COLONEL FRANK L. SMITH

For Lieutenant Governor

Frank L. Smith's name appears on the republican primary ticket, the last one under the heading of "For Lieutenant Governor."

Frank L. Smith would be much the stronger on the party ticket this fall of any candidate mentioned.

Frank L. Smith's home is in Dwight, Livingston county, and Livingston county gives a large republican majority, and never had a state officer.

Frank L. Smith has been endorsed by the republican organization in Cook county, Mayor Fred Busse, Senators Cullen and Hopkins, Speaker Cannon and republican congressmen in Illinois, the 17th congressional district, the 16th senatorial district many representative citizens, and now asks the most important endorsement of all—the people's endorsement.

Vote for Frank L. Smith at the primaries August 8 and you will make no mistake.

LEWIS O. BROCKWAY

Republican Candidate for Circuit Clerk

THE COMING PRIMARY ELECTION

To the Republican Voters of Lake County: I am a candidate for the nomination for State's Attorney.

I have always voted the Republican ticket, and believe in the principles and traditions of that party.

As a candidate for the important office of State's Attorney, I am not the candidate of any organization, or institution, or business interest or faction, or the advocate of any theory or ism, other than obedience to the laws as they are found in the statute books and in the decisions of the courts of last resort.

If elected, the responsibility will rest upon me seeing to it that the law is respected and obeyed, and I will accept that responsibility and shirk none of the duties of the office.

Regardless of what a man says, or does under stress, he is likely to live and done, (this applies to all the candidates myself included), and so, I submit my candidacy to the will of the people, believing that, so far as lies in their power, they will inquire

RALPH J. DADY
of Whitney & Dady

Republican Candidate for the Nomination for

STATE'S ATTORNEY

Primaries, Saturday, August 8, 1908.

as to my standing as a lawyer and as a man, and then determine whether, in their opinion, I am qualified to and will, if elected, perform the duties enjoined upon me by the oath of office.

I take this way of appealing to you for your support because of the practical impossibility of meeting all personally, which if opportunely permitted; I should be pleased to do.

The Municipal League of Zion City, 300 voters have endorsed me as their candidate.

Respectfully,
RALPH J. DADY.

LAKE COUNTY'S CANDIDATE

To the Republican Voters of the 8th Senatorial District:

I desire to announce that I shall be a candidate for state senator from the 8th Senatorial District, subject to the republican election to be held August 8, 1908.

Owing to my duties on the Board of Review, it will be impossible to personally see all of the Republican voters of the district, therefore I take this way of announcing my candidacy, and solicit your support.

George Quentlin.

The Philosophy of Folly.

"They say," observes the Philosopher of Folly, "that it takes nine tailors to make a man. I always acknowledge the truth of this old proverb when one of those dudes boasts that he has patronized the same tailor as his life."—Spokesman Review.

Pain anywhere stopped in 20 minutes sure with one of Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. The formula is on the 25c box. Ask your doctor or druggist about this formula! Stops womanly pains, headache, pains anywhere. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., for free trial, to prove value of his Headache or Pink Pain Tablets. Sold by J. H. Swan.

THEFT THAT HE COULDN'T DENY.

Story of Boyhood Days That Came Out in Court.

The attorney for the defense looked keenly at the witness who was testifying for the prosecution. "Your name, if I understand you correctly," he said, "is Horace Hinsey. Is that right?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you ever live at Nashua?"

"Yes, sir."

"And in Wilmington before that?"

"Yes, sir."

"Mr. Hinsey, have you ever been arrested on a criminal charge?"

"No, sir!" indignantly answered the witness.

"Did you ever commit an offense for which you might have been arrested?"

"Never, sir."

"Mr. Hinsey, is it not a fact that you once stole from your own father?"

Here the attorney for the prosecution interrupted, but the witness chose to answer.

"No, sir!" he exclaimed. "Never in my life!"

"Now, Mr. Hinsey," said the lawyer, "suppose I should tell you that I know of a case when you did steal from your father."

Instantly the witness' brow cleared.

"Gentlemen," he said, turning to the jury, "he's right. I remember now. When I was about eight years old I stole half a dozen eggs from my father's grocery store, took them down under the bank of the creek, cooked them and helped eat them. This lawyer, who was a boy then, not only helped me steal those eggs, but put me up to stealing them. How are you, Jim?"

The judge and jury joined in the laugh that followed and the rest of the examination was conducted on more friendly lines.—Youth's Companion.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

Imagination.

Believe that you have, and you have it.—Ovid.

CHAUFFEUR YOU READ ABOUT.

But His Like You Will Seldom See In Real Life.

Mr. Blank had advertised for a chauffeur, and he passed over a dozen applicants until he came to one whose general appearance seemed to fill the bill, and then said to him:

"Sir, I want a man different from the ordinary chauffeur."

"Yes, sir. I thought from the reading of your advertisement that you did. I am different."

"In what respects?"

"If you have a wife, I shall not flirt with her."

"If you have a daughter, I shall not cajole her into eloping with me."

"If your wife tries to find out through me where you go certain nights I shall be mum."

"If any dudes ask me how much money you are going to give your daughter when she marries I shall tell him to go to."

"I shall not come to your house to court the parlor maid."

"Should I be out in the auto alone, and a son of a gun should want to race me, I shall decline."

"I am a first-class liar regarding speed when arrested by the police."

"I never give things away to the newspapers."

"If divorce proceedings are instituted I go on the stand for you."

He was told to remove his coat and vest and undergo inspection, and when it was found that his angel wings were fully developed he was hired on the spot for $100 per month.—Rebo-both Democrat and Chronicle.

Comrades.

"Don't follow me, pup," said the good natured man to the lost dog. "I haven't any more home than you have. I live in a flat."—Washington Herald.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

A Stern Necessity.

The man who never says the wrong thing has to be silent a good deal of the time.

To The Republican Voters Of Lake County

I take this means of declaring my candidacy for the Republican Nomination for the office of State's Attorney of this Lake County. Realizing the importance of this office to the people in general and appreciating the responsibility there to attached, I ask your support.

Having practiced law in Lake County for more than twelve (12) years, with good measure of success and my Republicanism never having been in doubt, I feel justified in asking Republican support on August 8th.

Local News Notes

ELGIN, ILL., Aug. 3.—Butter firm at 21c.

P. E. Chinn was a Chicago passenger Tuesday.

Try Herdrich's Bitters and be convinced of their value.

Walter Taylor of Waukegan was an over Sunday visitor at this place.

W. F. Weiss of Waukegan spent Sunday in Antioch and vicinity.

A large number from here attended the Waukegan Day celebration Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brogan spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. Brogan here.

The Misses Jennie and Bertha Jerns of Chicago are the guests of Miss Nellie Kennedy.

Miss Maybelle Higgins of Libertyville was the guest of the Misses Tiffany over Sunday.

Mrs. Will Taylor and Mrs. Ed. Lux of Wadsworth visited over Sunday with Antioch relatives.

Miss Helen Goodrich left on Friday last for Youngstown, Ohio, where she will visit with friends for a week or so.

Mrs. H. Johnson is entertaining her nieces, the Misses Turner of Helron and Misses Richardson of Spring Grove, this week.

For Sale—7½ acres of land, good house and barn, fruit trees and small fruit. Good land and near Antioch. Price $2500. J. C. James.

When you go to the polls be sure and cast one vote for David H. Jackson for Representative. His name is the middle one on the ballot.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hembrook of Chetek, Wis., formerly of this place are the proud parents of a baby girl who arrived at their home Sunday, July 26.

Walter Sykes of Spring Grove, Ill., has bought Chas. Pittman's farm west of the city. Consideration $3000. Mr. Sykes will not take possession until next spring—Chetek Alert.

See Alden, Biding & Co., for anything in music. Pianos, phonographs and records. Two stores, 473 Market at Kenosha, and 209 N. Genesee st., Waukegan. For piano tuning send to us.

Rochester Academy, Rochester, Wis., opens its forty-second year September 8. Course admits without examination to college or university. Special courses in business, music, and preparation for teaching. For catalog and information address E. G. Tonn, Prin.

Attorney A. K. Stearns of Waukegan addressed a large and attentive audience at this place on Friday evening last. On account of the warm weather the meeting was held in the open air. Mr. Stearns speaking from a banyan in front of Williams Bros. store. About 500 people were present to hear his remarks.

The Fox Lake Country Club held a club luncheon on the lawn of the club house on the east shore of Fox Lake Saturday evening. Colonel J. P. Vidard of Lotus Farm, who is a far famed host of such affairs presided in his accustomed pleasing manner. During the afternoon there were rowing matches which were of unusual interest as women as well as men competed in the races. The largest crowd of the season was present and the affair was one of the jolliest of its kind.

Miss Mary Jamieson spent Friday in Waukegan.

W. J. Ganger visited over Sunday at Whitewater, Wis.

Mrs. Geo. A. Wright of Libertyville is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Swan.

Wm. Oyerton and daughter, of Solon Mills were the guests of Antioch relatives Monday.

Glen Heyardt and family of Chicago are visiting his sister, Mrs. Chas. Alvord and family this week.

Jackson's platform is good roads, good government, no favoritism, no spite work, honesty and honor in public life.

Miss Hattie Schilko returned to her work at Kenosha on Sunday after spending her vacation with her parents here.

For Sale—A Steinway piano in first-class condition. Will be sold cheap. Inquire of Ayling Bros. Antioch, Ill. 471

Mrs. Chester Whitmore of Ottumwa, Iowa, arrived Wednesday morning for a visit with Antioch relatives and friends.

Clarence Brogan left the fore part of the week for Mowbrige, South Dakota, where he expects to remain for some time.

Miss Virginia Barthel of Williamburg, Kansas, came on Monday to spend a month with Mrs. J. C. James, Jr., and family.

Mrs. Frank Mathews and little daughter of Burlington spent the latter part of the past week with her mother and other relatives here.

The trustees of the Grass Lake school have decided to build the new school house of cement blocks. The blocks are now being delivered by the Grass Lake Cement Block Company.

David H. Jackson as a member of the County Central Committee and later as chairman has worked hard for the Republican party and has earned any office his ability and character fit him for.

Mrs. J. C. James, Sr. and Mrs. W. H. Osmond were called to Spring Grove Wednesday morning by the serious illness of Mrs. William James who is not expected to live.

The Royal Neighbors of Lake Villa will hold a weight social on Tuesday evening, August 11, on L. W. Rowling's lawn. Ladies are requested to take lunch for two. Every body invited.

Having returned from her vacation Miss Eumert, the optician will make her regular monthly visits to Antioch the same as before. She will be at the Antioch hotel, Friday, August 14.

The Antioch News and the Chicago Daily Inter Ocean or Daily Tribune one year for $3.00, or at the rate of 16¢ cents per month for your Chicago paper. Can you afford to be without a daily paper?

On Thursday of last week occurred the wedding of Miss Zula Newell and Mr. Otto Warren, both of Trevor. The wedding took place at the home of the bride at two o'clock in the afternoon, with Rev. F. B. McNamara officiating. Their many friends here wish them much joy and happiness through life.

William Khuss of 1067 West 19th street, Chicago, was drowned while bathing at Lake Mario Sunday afternoon. Khuss was about nineteen years of age and heart trouble was undoubtedly the cause of his drowning. The body was recovered and an inquest held after which the remains were taken to Chicago Monday morning.

Local Announcements and the Elgin Butter Market

W. H. Osmond was a visitor at Solon Mills Monday.

Mrs. Jos. Fillweber spent Monday last with relatives at Solon Mills.

Lewis O. Brockway and Alderman Morrow of Waukegan were Antioch visitors Friday.

Mrs. E. F. Hubbard of Libertyville is spending the week with her son, Ray L. Hubbard and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Low Lewis and family of Waukegan spent Sunday and Monday with Antioch relatives.

Mrs. George Cropper and sons of Chicago returned home on Saturday last after a few days visit with relatives here.

Miss Addie Schaefer returned home on Tuesday evening from a two weeks vacation spent with her sister in Michigan.

Mrs. Elmer Hoyt returned to her home in Chicago the latter part of the week after a short visit with Mrs. E. A. Kennedy.

Miss Gertrude McAdams, of Detroit, Mich., was the guest of Mildred Blunt over Sunday and incidentally took in the Lotus beds at Grass Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Drury spent the latter part of last and the fore part of this week with their daughter, Mrs. Chas. Holmes and family in Chicago.

If a man's neighbors and associates trust him it is a good recommendation to others. Lake Forest and Shields township are sold for David H. Jackson.

Mr. W. J. Cronin has returned to Chicago after spending a week with his wife and son who are stopping with her mother Mrs. Girard at Lake Catherine.

Our Glorious Climate.
"It is fortunate," says the Billville Banner, "that the trusts can't raise the price on our delicious climate, and we are nearing the delightful season when we shall be able to roast beef-steak on the roof and hold eggs in the millpond!"—Atlanta Constitution.

When the stomach, heart or kidney nerves get weak, then these organs always fail. Don't drug the stomach nor stimulate the heart or kidneys. That is simply a make-shift. Get a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves. Strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative—tablets or liquid—and see how quickly help will come. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Man and the Horse.
Man, the highest type of animal, dates back but a million years or so to a time known as the Miocene age. The same period saw the horse in a state of development.

Summer complaint and other serious ailments common in hot weather can be traced to the stomach nine times out of ten. Keep the stomach in good order right now by keeping a bottle of Kodol handy in the house all the time, but especially during this month. Take Kodol whenever you feel that you need it. That is the only time you need to take Kodol. Just when you need it; then you will not be troubled with sour stomach, belching gas of the stomach, bloating, dyspepsia and indigestion. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Higher Than Monarch.
He who reigns within himself, and rules passions, desires and fears, is more than a King.—Milton.

Excellent Health Advice

Mrs. M. M. Davison of No. 379 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy for headache, biliousness and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I feel prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at J. H. Swan's drug store, 50c.

Cost of Education in Germany.
The average annual cost for each pupil for public-school education in Germany is $12.86.

Kodol For Indigestion

Our Guarantee Coupon

If, after using two-thirds of a free bottle of Kodol, you can honestly say it has not benefited you, we will refund your money. Try Kodol today on this guarantee. Fill out and send the following, present it to the dealer at the time of purchase. If it fails to satisfy you, return the bottle containing one-third of the medicine to the dealer from whom you bought it, and we will refund your money.

Name _____
State _____
Sign here _____

Digests What You Eat
And Makes the Stomach Sweet
E. C. DEWITT & CO., Chicago, Ill.
J. H. SWAN.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physician, and consequently the most dangerous. While the original disease undermines the system, with deteriorating effects, while the system is being undermined, the original disease is being recognized.

Want To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or has effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

HOPKINS A MAN OF PROMISE.

His Career Is Without Parallel in the History of the Republican Party.

What is Senator Hopkins' future? How are the events of the next four months likely to influence his public career? If one will stop to reflect upon what has happened in the last six months, the natural answer to the foregoing question will reflect a vista of promise that discloses Hopkins as one of the great forthcoming figures of our national life. He now enjoys the confidence of President Roosevelt to an extent that is rivaled only by the intimate friendship of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. William H. Taft, the republican candidate for president, regards him as one of the ablest and most accomplished members of congress, and moreover, reposes in him a trust equal to that of President Roosevelt. To say that Senator Hopkins will be one of the foremost republican leaders during the next six years, and that his influence as a legislator and as a party man will be second to none in the nation, and that his value to his constituency will be vastly increased is no sense an exaggeration. The election of Taft as president will instantly place Senator Hopkins in the front rank of his advisors. That he would hold the same relation to Taft as Lodge has held to President Roosevelt, that he would be recognized as the administration leader upon all measures and policies about which the administration is concerned, is the inevitable result of his present standing with the former secretary of war. Taft himself is a worker. He is one of the men in this world who does not know what it means to rest or play. For five years he has been the busiest member of the Roosevelt cabinet. He has administered the vast and complex affairs of the war department with zeal and devotion to duty that have never been exceeded and rarely, if ever, equaled, and at the present time he is enjoying the first rest he has had since he quit the bench at the solicitation of the late President McKinley to become civil head of the Philippines. His admiration for Hopkins is due entirely to the fact that Hopkins is also a tireless worker. He has had occasion to learn by experience that whatever he entrusted to Hopkins was performed with zeal and always well. His more recent experiences with the junior senator from Illinois in connection with the committee on resolutions at the national republican convention was of a kind with all his previous conceptions of the senator's character and methods. Hopkins won his eternal gratitude by the skill with which he conducted that remarkable episode in our national political activities. Mr. Taft frankly admits that it was Hopkins' diplomacy, ripe experience as a parliamentarian and force of character which converted what appeared to be a situation fraught with peril to the republican party into a triumph for the party. Hopkins is the kind of a man that a progressive, enterprising president must have to carry and assure the permanence of his policies, and that is the reason why Hopkins will be one of the foremost advisors of the Taft administration.

While Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended for children. It is, of course, just as good for adults. Children like to take it because it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Its laxative principle drives the cold from the system by a gentle, natural, yet copious action of the bowels. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Of Revenge.
Revenge is a kind of wild justice; which the more man's nature runs to, the more ought law to weed it out.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salvo but just one original. Nothing else is just as good. Insist on DeWitt's. It is cleansing, cooling and soothing. Sold by J. H. Swan.

MEMORY OF RINGING SCYTHES.

When Mowing Was the Portion of the Farmer and His Aids.

Alas, there are no scythes now-days! The work is done with horses and reapers. The economical reform has swept our romance unmercifully. In those days there were scythes, and there were men who knew how to swing them. It was a fine sight to see four or five well-built lads, led by the father, mowing down the meadow—and the timothy was nearly as tall as their heads. But the swing of their scythes fell true, and their tread was even, and they were glad. Birds sang overhead, and when they came near a ground bird's nest, the mother told them of it, and they went round leaving it unharmed. But a bumblebee's nest! That was another thing! And they went round that also. But at night the boys did not forget, for bumblebees' honey is good, and they did not know in those days that the bumblebees were very essential in a clover field. I remember one tall fellow, with a touch of Indian blood, who went down the field on a trot—cutting a good, honest swath all the way. No one could keep near him, and he was the envy of all the boys and men. At noon he marched like a general, and at night he spoke patronizingly. Why not, for it was a grand achievement. Such art was surely as good as scanning Homer, and the feet never lost time. They were hexameters that rhymed.—E. P. Powell, in Outing Magazine.

Live with Others.
Life's best school is living with people. It is there we learn our lessons. Some one says: "It is better to live with others, even at the cost of considerable jarring and friction, than to live in undisturbed quiet alone."

USE

A - B STOVE POLISH

QUICK! EASY! OUTLASTS ALL OTHERS! SOLD EVERYWHERE!

A-B POLISH CO.

14 Haddon Ave. Chicago

C. F. BARTHEL

Contractor & Builder

Plans and Specifications Furnished on Application

Estimates Furnished on Wood, Concrete and Cement Block Buildings

Call and see me if you are intending to build as I can save you money

C. F. BARTHEL

Telephone 371 Antioch, Ill.

T. N. DONNELLY & Co.

Loan and Diamond Brokers

118 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., Between Washington and Madison.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, ALL KINDS JEWELRY at less than cost. At half the price you pay the regular stores Dec 19 01 51

BANK OF ANTIOCH,

EDWARD BROOK, BANKER.

BUY AND SELL EXCHANGE, AND DO A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.

SPECTACLES SCIENTIFICALLY FITTED

C. F. INGALLS

Jewellers and Opticians, 112 Genesee St. Waukegan, Ill.

J. C. JAMES, JR.

UNDERTAKER

LICENSED EMBALMER

Licensed by the State Board of Health

EUGENE M. RUNYARD

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

TELEPHONE 1303.

218 Washington St. WAUKEGAN, ILL.

Did You Mean That?

When You told Your bride that you would always love her and would make her your queen?

Were You Only Fooling?

Now make your word good. Give her Electric Lights if she deserves it, and if any man insinuates that she don't, poke him in the eye and pay your fine

ANTIOCH ELECTRIC CO.

SHOES...

We have just received a full line of Men's, Ladies', Boys', Misses' and Children's fall shoes in patent leather, gun metal, box calf and kid. We have the largest assortment ever carried in Antioch at the right price.

JOHN ENGMAN

"The Shoe Man"

ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS

Souvenir Post Cards

WE HAVE A VERY LARGE ASSORTMENT OF LOCAL VIEWS

ALSO WE STILL HANDLE

Silver Lake Ice Cream

JAMES H. SWAN

Pharmacist

Antioch, Ill.

Kodol For Indigestion

Our Guarantee Coupon

If, after using two-thirds of a free bottle of Kodol, you can honestly say it has not benefited you, we will refund your money. Try Kodol today on this guarantee. Fill out and send the following, present it to the dealer at the time of purchase. If it fails to satisfy you, return the bottle containing one-third of the medicine to the dealer from whom you bought it, and we will refund your money.

Name _____
State _____
Sign here _____

Digests What You Eat
And Makes the Stomach Sweet
E. C. DEWITT & CO., Chicago, Ill.
J. H. SWAN.

While Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is especially recommended for children. It is, of course, just as good for adults. Children like to take it because it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. Its laxative principle drives the cold from the system by a gentle, natural, yet copious action of the bowels. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Of Revenge.
Revenge is a kind of wild justice; which the more man's nature runs to, the more ought law to weed it out.

There are many imitations of DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salvo but just one original. Nothing else is just as good. Insist on DeWitt's. It is cleansing, cooling and soothing. Sold by J. H. Swan.

TAXES HAVE BEEN HIGH

Present Administration in Illinois Seeks to Evade Its Responsibilities.

DENEEN VERY EXTRAVAGANT

Average of Tax Rate Under Yates
$100,000 a Year Less.

This Condition Prevailed Notwithstanding the Fact That Taxable Valuation of Property Is $1,200,000,000 More.

For plain unadorned mendacity, Governor Deneen's comparison of the tax rate that was levied during his administration with the tax rate of the previous Yates administration, is only equalled by his assertion that the dreadful disclosures of mismanagement, brutality, and even murder in the several state institutions were caused by political jealousy. Deneen, in his campaign pamphlet, says that the average tax rate during his four years as Governor was fifty cents per $100 valuation.
The statement would have stood unchallenged and forever redeounded to his credit if he hadn't added that the tax rate during the Yates administration was fifty-four cents. The short and ugly word alone is equal to characterizing such a statement as this. Deneen mendaciously took the prevailing rate of the last year of Governor Yates' term, fifty-four cents per one hundred dollars of equalized valuation as the standard of comparison.

Ignored Real Facts.

He deliberately ignored the three previous years of that administration.
If he had even confined the comparison to the last year of his administration and the last year of Yates' administration, he would not stand accused as he is of deliberately falsifying the state records for a political purpose, because he would have dealt in facts. But when he left the public to assume that the fifty-four-cent rate of 1904 was the average rate of the Yates' administration, and that by comparing with the average rate of the Deneen administration (50c) he disclosed a larger burden than Deneen had imposed upon the resources of the tax payers of the state, he was guilty of a sharp practice that even a shyster lawyer would hesitate to adopt.

Yates' Rate Forty-nine Cents.

The fact is that the average rate of the Yates' administration was forty-nine cents. The fifty-four-cent rate in 1904 was the direct result of certain extraordinary expenditures which were authorized by the legislature of the previous year. The first year of Yates' administration, the rate was fifty cents.
In 1902 it fell to the unprecedented low rate of forty cents. In 1903 it increased to fifty-two cents, and in 1904 it was fifty-four cents. It will be seen that the average rate was only forty-nine cents.

Deneen Rate Excessive.

Throughout the four years of Deneen's administration, the rate each year was fifty cents. It does not require a political economist to reach the conclusion that the Deneen rate for the last two years of his administration was excessive, because he contrived through the medium of his political machine in Cook county and elsewhere to increase the total value of ratables to $1,250,000,000. Neither does it require an enlightened understanding to appreciate that through the maintenance of a fifty-cent rate, Deneen has been enabled to mulct the tax payers of Illinois to the tune of $9,125,000 per year more than Governor Yates ever obtained from them for the support of the state government.

Where Has Money Gone?

When one considers this extraordinary increase of revenue and applies the fact to the scandals that were disclosed in the several state institutions

by the special legislative committee, one cannot help entertaining a feeling of doubt as to the integrity of the Deneen administration. What did he do with the money? Clearly it was not spent for the maintenance of the state institutions, because the evidence shows that the unfortunate inmates were fed less food and of an inferior quality.
Perhaps the payrolls have increased in size, and the number of attendants has multiplied beyond all reason. This may account for the dissipation of some of the money, but it does not account for the dissipation of all of it. Here is something for the taxpayers of Illinois to ponder over. Equally it is something for Deneen to explain if he can.

DENEEN'S AUTOMOBILE TOUR

Clinton Public—Governor Deneen and friends are taking trips over the fertile prairies of Illinois in automobiles. Ten to fifteen machines are constantly in his train. It may be he had such tours in his mind when he advised the general assembly of this state to fasten a mortgage on every farm that the roads of Illinois might be hard. In these political tours, he has found the roads pretty good but he has not told the farmers whether he will again recommend the hard roads proposition should he again be chosen. In turn, the farmers are not likely to take any chances. They will vote almost solidly for Yates.

To All Intents.

"Housekeeping is a circus, and I can prove it," said the man who makes his living compiling facts. Read this in the abridged dictionary:

"Manage: Housekeeping; household affairs and administration; domestic economy; training of animals, as of horses; a collection of animals for exhibition; a menagerie."

Rome's Seven Hills.

The names of the seven hills of Rome are: The Palatine, the Capitoline, the Aventine, the Carlian, the Esquiline, the Quirinal and the Vimin-al.—New York American.

PRIMARY LAW FAVORS HOPKINS.

The People Will Have No Other Candidate for United States Senator—Election Assured.

It is a curious commentary on the lack of intelligent perception of some politicians that they believed the enactment of the primary law would prove disadvantageous to Senator Hopkins.
They were clearly of the opinion that the law would result in the nomination of some other candidate and the retirement of Hopkins to private life.
Senator Hopkins' friends never believed anything of the sort, and the Senator himself was firmly convinced that the law would result advantageously to his fortunes. He believed in the people and he was confident that the people believed in him. He has never for a moment entertained a remote doubt as to what their verdict concerning himself would be. One reason for this superb confidence on his part has been his consciousness that throughout his public career he has performed every duty assigned him in honored and fidelity. The underlying secret of Hopkins' success as a member of the House of Representatives and later as a United States Senator has been his conviction that no task involved his integrity as a public servant was too small or too unimportant to be neglected. Abraham Lincoln's historic philosophy that you can feel all of the people some of the time, some of the people all the time, but you can't feel all of the people all the time, exactly fits the idea that was entertained concerning Hopkins by his political opponents.
Their trouble was that they did not understand the people as well as Hopkins.
They obviously believed that it was possible for them to becloud the real issues of the campaign, and create a slander and unjustifiable misapprehension in the minds of the voters concerning Hopkins' real standing and work as a public servant.

It was unfortunate for them this idea was predicated upon the fear that the people do not know their own servant.
Nothing could be further from the truth. The people of Illinois have known Senator Hopkins for twenty-five years. They knew him as a leading member of the House of Representatives. They knew him better as a United States Senator. They know that he has gone from one eminence to another in the performance of his duties, and that at the present time his influence is second to that of no other man in Washington. The people will take care of Hopkins, not because he is Hopkins, but because he has served them faithfully and well. A man who has been capable of earning the gratitude of Theodore Roosevelt for the manner in which he has performed his duties is not likely to be forgotten by his constituents.

CHOOSING A SENATOR.

Some United States senators are elected and re-elected because for nearly half a century it has been the custom to send these men to the senate. Other senators are selected because they are obviously among the big men of the party, not only of their own state but of the commonwealth at large.

Senator Hopkins belongs to the latter class. He has served only one term in the United States senate but he has had an experience of eighteen years in the lower house, strenuous years of useful and effective labor not only for the people of his district and his state but for the entire nation. He was made senator six years ago because he was one of the biggest and strongest men in the state, and his record during that six years has abundantly borne out the opinion his supporters have always held regarding him.

When a new member first enters the senate it is good policy for him to show a becoming modesty during the first session and attend strictly to the work assigned to him in committee.
If he does not appreciate this rule he is very likely to impair his usefulness to the state by getting the enmity and opposition of the older members. Senator Hopkins knew this very well and during his first year in the upper house he contented himself with laboring diligently and seldom took any active part in the debates on the floor. In his second term, while the agitation over the affairs of the Chicago National bank was up for discussion, the junior senator from Illinois locked horns with Senator Tillman, the virulent scold of the upper house,

and in a short, bitter discussion, defeated the southerner at his own game. In this battle the Illinois senator owed his success to two things.
The first of these was his intimate knowledge of all the details of the question under debate and the second was his natural force, dignity and manliness in the discussion. From this time Senator Hopkins was a marked man in the upper house, and the friends of any measure rejoiced greatly thereafter when the Illinois man arose in its defense. Senator Hopkins has made a wonderful record for the six years he has been in office, but his influence is just beginning to be felt. After he has served another term he will be one of the most influential men in the upper house.—Poria Herald-Transcript

Lanoh Sink; Twenty-Five Drown.

As many as twenty-five people were drowned when a pleasure launch going to Corregidor Island from Manila foundered with seventy-five on board.
Three of the victims were Americans, and it is reported that an army surgeon is among the lost. The fifty survivors were rescued by the British steamer Saveric, which lowered boats immediately.

Slander.

Slander is a restless evil which disturbs society, spreads dissension through cities and countries, disunites the strictest friendships; is the source of hatred and revenge, fills, wherever it enters, with disturbances and confusion, and everywhere is an enemy of peace, comfort and Christian good-breeding.—Massillon.

A Cleaning Hint.

In cleaning clothes with gasoline the ring left around the part cleaned can be removed by steaming it over the boiler.

BARGAINS THAT ARE BARGAINS

OUR GREAT

After Inventory Sale

We Positively have no connection with any other store in Waukegan.

Heimstein Co

BRANCH STORES AT KENOSHA AND RACINE

105-107 NORTH GENESEE STREET NEAR WASHINGTON STREET, WAUKEGAN, ILLINOIS

Waukegan's Most Popular Ladies' Ready-to-wear
Store

COME and buy anything and everything in the line of women's and children's ready-to-wear
apparel AT PRICES POSITIVELY UNHEARD OF BEFORE. Every department will be chuck full of the greatest bargains we have ever attempted to put before the public. It is simply a case of MUST SELL—must get rid of every summer garment in stock. We earnestly ask the ladies of Waukegan and all Lake County to call on us and investigate these real bargains.

Big Cut in Skirts

$2.00 to $2.50 Linen Skirts with embroidery trimming, at.....	98c
$2.50 to $4.00 Linen Skirts, at.....	$1.33
$5.00 to $6.00 Cloth Skirts, at.....	$2.69
All our $7.00, $8.00 and 10.00 Panama Skirts, in black and colors.....	$4.98
$3.50 and $4.50 Cloth Skirts, at.....	$1.69

Coats Must Go

Just what you will need in a month from now—$6.50 to $8.50 Black Broadcloth and Covert Coats.....	$3.19
$5.00 to $6.00 odd Linen Coats, at.....	$1.98
$6.00 to $8.50 Silk Coats, at.....	$3.49
$10.50 to 12.50 Voile Coats, at.....	$5.75
$10.00 to $20.00 Cloth Coats, at.....	$8.98

Waist Surprises

Handsome White Lawn Waists, tucks and embroidery, special.....	37c
Over one dozen styles all over embroidery and lace effects.....	79c
One lot of Waists that will surely surprise you, at.....	98c
Lingerie Waists, clusters of tucks and embroideries, at.....	$1.48
All higher grade Waists, such value never seen before, at.....	$1.89

Good-bye to Suits

Elegant Spring Suits, that formerly sold at $12.50 to $15.00.....	$4.98
About 25 odd Suits that formerly sold from $18.00 to $22.50 have been reduced so as to close them out for.....	$7.98

Summer Garments Must Go

We have lotted all our Summer Dresses that sold from $6.50 to $9 and will close them out at one price.....	$3.98
$3 and $4 odd Jumper Suits and Shirt Waist Suits, at.....	98c
$16.50 to $22.50 Lingerie Dresses, at.....	$10.98

Just What You Want

Misses' and children's Night Gowns, at.....	35c
Black Mercerized Petticoats, at.....	65c
$1.00 Leather Purses, with chains, at.....	35c
Misses' White Petticoats, at.....	22c
All 25c and 35c Handkerchiefs, at.....	10c
Women's Muslin Drawers.....	19c
$1.00 Corsets, at.....	67c

Millinery

Any Trimmed Hat in the house that sold up to $12.00, at.....	$2.98
--	--------

Flowers

25c and 35c Flowers, per bunch.....	5c
75c Flowers, per bunch.....	15c
$1.00 and $1.50 Flowers, per bunch.....	25c

We Cordially Invite all Ladies to make our Store Their Headquarters when Shopping

SAVED AT THE CRISIS.

Delay Meant Death from Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. Herman Smith, 901 Broad Street, Athens, Ga., says: "Kidney disease started with slight irregularity and weakness and developed into dangerous dropsy. I became weak and languid, and could do no housework. My back ached terribly. I had bearing down pains and my limbs bloated to twice their normal size. Doctors did not help, and I was fast drifting into the hopeless stages. I used Doan's Kidney Pills at the critical moment and they really saved my life."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

IN TOYDOM.

Billy Block—A Teddy bear! And here I've went and shot me lost stone at a canary bird! Drat the luck!

Socialistic.

The Patient—Doc, I can't pay you no money while I ain't gone none, already. Will you take it out in trade?

The Dentist—Well, I might consider that. What's your business?

The Patient—I lead a leedle Chalmers band. You'll come around and serenade you effer night for a month, yet!

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of W. L. Chas. H. Fletcher in Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The Comparison.

Towne—Yes, my wife is able to dress on comparatively little money.

Browne—Oh, come now! Comparatively little?

Towne—I mean a little compared with what she thinks she ought to have.—Philadelphia Press.

Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c cigar is best quality all the time. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

A cat's claws don't always hide a fully skeleton.

This woman says she was saved by an operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lena V. Henry, of Norristown, Pa., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I suffered untold misery from female troubles. My doctor said an operation was the only chance I had, and I dreaded it almost as much as death."

"One day I read how other women had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it. Before I had taken the first bottle I was better, and now I am entirely cured."

"Every woman suffering with any female trouble should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

SICK HEADACHE

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Disastrous Dropsy, Indigestion and Too Frequent Stooling. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Headache, and all the troubles that come from the stomach. Sold in the Month, Count of Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER.

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

DEATH LIST GROWS

VICTIMS OF CANADIAN FIRE MAY NUMBER 200 TO 400.

RAILROAD IS CRIPPLED

Six Thousand Refugees Crowd the Spared Towns and Suffer for Lack of Food.

Winnipeg, Man.—The list of fatalities in the forest fire, which, starting at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, laid waste an area of 40 square miles along the Crow's Nest Pass branch of the Canadian Pacific road and devoured the prosperous mining town of Fernie and half a dozen smaller places, is steadily increasing and is now placed at between 200 and 400.

Hosmer and Michel are still fighting the flames. The townspeople, after a battle of more than 30 hours, believed they had saved a remnant of their dwellings and lay down at their posts utterly exhausted. However, the flames swept down upon them again, impelled by a strong west wind.

Late Monday afternoon the inhabitants of Michel, which is 20 miles from Fernie, were on the point of giving up the struggle, recognizing that their town was doomed. Nothing has been heard from Hosmer since the announcement of a fresh outbreak, but it is believed the place is in the same terrible straits as its neighbor.

Refugees Number 6,000.

Crowds of refugees are arriving at Nelson and other places which have escaped the disaster. These consist largely of women and children, the men having remained behind to fight the flames. They are all in a pitiable condition, most of them having brought nothing with them but the scanty raiment they wore at the time the onrush of the fire made it necessary to flee. It is estimated that fully 6,000 persons are wandering about the burned area, suffering from exposure to the keen mountain air and lack of food.

A telegram has been received from Editor Sampson of Cranbrook, which town is filled with refugees, stating that unless relief is sent quickly the place will be utterly unable to cope with the situation, as its food supplies will not last much longer in view of the many extra mouths to feed.

Railway Is Crippled.

To add to the horrors of the situation, the Canadian Pacific railway, connecting district with the outer world, is crippled. Many bridges have been burned and the movement of trains by which fire fighters, refugees and provisions are transported is attended with almost insurmountable difficulties. Consequently, the supplies of food and clothing which are being rushed to the stricken region from Vancouver, Nelson and other places are blocked in transit.

Vancouver wired $5,000 for relief and a train load of supplies went out.

Winnipeg has dispatched a special train with nurses, doctors, hospital stores and provisions. How soon they will get through is problematical.

Building Carried Away.

Such was the force of the fiery tornado that one frame building, 70 feet long, was picked up, carried across several lots and dropped into the middle of the main street.

Five families were homed in by the fire and every soul perished. The West Fernie bridges across Elk river could not be saved. Several people lost their lives in trying to cross the burning structures. Numbers fled to the river and sought refuge by wading in the water; others ran to the Canadian Pacific tracks, where special trains were waiting to convey the people to Michel, but this trip could not be made because the bridge between Hosmer and Michel had been burned.

In one part of the city an aged woman, an invalid, was carried a short distance, but the heat became so great that she begged to be left to her fate, and her relatives, wrapping her in wet blankets, fled toward the hills. She was burned to death.

When the flames were consuming the town all the prisoners with the exception of five Black Hand suspects were released. Later they were recaptured and sent to Nelson.

Fernie Death Total 173.

The dead at Fernie and camps in the neighborhood are declared to total 173, with a property loss of $8,000,000 for the locality. Loggers to the number of 80 in the camps of the Elk lumber company have perished and several settlers with their families who lived on the line of railroad between Fernie and Michel have disappeared.

The great wave of fire is still rolling eastward through the forest, following the lines of the Canadian Pacific railroad. In some places its path is but a mile wide, in others three miles. Nothing can stop it, apparently, till the rain falls, and that may be days or weeks.

The estimated property loss so far is $10,000,000, but it is feared that this figure will be greatly swelled before the fire is extinguished.

Nab Suspects in Murder Case.

New York.—After a long chase Saturday two men were arrested by the Greenpoint police in connection with the mystery of several days ago, in which an attempt was made to burn the body of an unknown woman.

Company Robbed of $100,000.

New York.—The arrest of three men in Brooklyn disclosed the fact that the Adams Express company has lost $100,000, according to the police estimate, through a series of trunk robberies in that borough.

BIG CHICAGO FIRE

RAILWAY FREIGHT DEPOTS AND ELEVATORS BURNED.

LOSS ABOUT $2,000,000

Twelve Companies of Firemen Threatened with Death—Scores of Them Are Badly Injured.

Chicago.—Scores of firemen were burned and otherwise injured, more or less seriously, during the progress of a spectacular deck and grain elevator fire in the vicinity of Canal and West Sixteenth streets Monday afternoon.

The property destroyed includes the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy freight depot, elevator F and the Union elevator of the Armour company, part of elevator E, many freight sheds and cars and minor property. The loss is estimated at $2,000,000.

Twelve companies of firemen were threatened with death and were practically hemmed in between walls of fire at 3:30 p. m. after a wall of an elevator had fallen with a terrific crash. The men were working in a pit between the river and the burning elevator while a huge pile of sand ten feet high and several hundred feet long was on two sides of them.

When the wall of the huge elevator fell into the river brands were scattered in every direction and the fire attacked buildings on the east side of the water.

All railroad traffic in the union station was tied up on the Pennsylvania, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Chicago and Allen lines. Trains were finally run around the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul tracks at the north end of the station.

Street-car service on most of the West side lines was tied up for hours on account of the number of engines that lined the streets near the blaze.

St. Paul, Minn.—A special from Beaudette states that the Shevlin-Molina Lumber company's sawmill caught fire Monday afternoon and burned to the ground, causing a loss of approximately $250,000.

LAPORTE'S LATEST MYSTERY.

Body of a Man, Presumably Murdered, Found in Crude Grave.

Laporte, Ind.—Laporte has another murder mystery for solution. The discovery in a half-dug grave covered over with fence rails, branches of trees and other debris, on the farm of Dr. Bowell, near Rolling Prairie, of the badly decomposed body of a well-dressed man about 40 years old, has roused the authorities to an effort to discover the identity of the body and whether the man was murdered.

Coroner Mack, after carefully examining the body, declared the man had been shot through the head. The clothing, which was almost new, was purchased in Grand Rapids, Mich. The only thing found in the clothing was a copy of a Minneapolis farm paper. The man wore a Panama hat and patent leather shoes. Identification through recognition of the features of the face will be almost an impossibility.

GEORGE PETTIBONE DIES.

Miners' Federation Man Succumbs to Operation for Cancer.

Denver, Col.—George Pettibone, for years prominent in the councils of the Western Federation of Miners and charged with President Moyer and former Secretary Haywood, with complicity in the murder of former Gov. Stuenkel of Idaho, died at St. Joseph's hospital Monday night from the effects of an operation for cancer.

Pettibone had been ill practically ever since his confinement in the Idaho penitentiary, which began more than a year previous to the famous trials at Boise.

Five Die in Auto Accident.

San Francisco.—Five persons were killed and two injured in an automobile accident Monday afternoon near Burlingame, 20 miles south of this city. The dead are: Mrs. T. A. McCormick, Miss Clara McCormick, aged 18; Mrs. Ira G. O'Brien, Ira G. O'Brien, Jr., and Robert T. O'Brien. The injured are Mrs. E. G. McCannley and Miss Ethel McCormick. All are members of prominent families.

Defends Harnsworth Cup.

New York.—The United States won another international contest Monday when the motorboat Dixie II, defeated the British challenger, the Wolsley, in a 30-mile race for the Harnsworth cup on Long Island sound, off Huntington, L. I.

Peruvian Prisoners Freed.

Lima, Peru.—The supreme court Monday issued a decree unconditional setting at liberty all political prisoners with the exception of those who were armed when arrested.

Cadets Not Yet Reinstated.

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—Whether the dismissal from the West Point military academy of the eight cadets who had been found guilty of hazing is to be made permanent or the young men reinstated through congressional action or executive clemency is still undetermined. This attitude of the government is set forth in an official statement issued by President Roosevelt through Rudolph Foster, who is acting private secretary to the president in the absence of Secretary Loch, on his vacation.

RACE WAR IS FATAL

ONE KILLED AND 25 OTHERS BADLY HURT AT GATES, PA.

ITALIANS VERSUS SLAVS

Riot Follows Pay Day and Long Carouse—One Man Shot Dead by Leader. He Was Helping.

Uniontown, Pa.—One man dead and 25 others seriously injured, some of them fatally, are the results of a riot early Sunday between Italians and Slavs at Gates, one of the H. C. Frick Coke company plants, near Mason town.

All the men are foreigners. There have been factional differences between the two races for a long time. Saturday was pay day at the large plant and until after midnight a large quantity of intoxicants was consumed. Jacob Furance, leader of the Italian faction, went to the gate of a Slavic boarding house and defied its 25 inmates. Immediately Furance and Alexander Molanski, leader of the Slavs, were engaged in a fight. Antillo Rence, another Italian, went to the assistance of the former and this was the signal for a general fight. Revolvers began to crack and Rence fell dead, struck, it is said, by a misdirected shot fired by Furance. The injuries of the 25 men consist of bullet wounds through the body, arms and legs. The most serious wounds were received by the Italians.

A squad of the Pennsylvania state constabulary was sent on the scene and 19 of the rioters were arrested and taken to Mason town. Members of both factions then surrounded the jail, demanding that their companions be liberated. During the night the jail was guarded and Sunday the men were brought to Uniontown on a special street car.

WON'T LET THE DUTCH LAND.

Venezuelans Prevent Cruiser from Communicating with Shore.

Willemstad, Curacao.—The Dutch cruiser Gelderland arrived here Sunday from La Guaira, Venezuela. Her commander declares that he sent a boat ashore at La Guaira with an officer and was refused all means of communication with the shore. The authorities there, he says, declined to accept the letter bags and an official communication to the German minister, who is in charge of Dutch interests in Caracas. He reports also that Venezuela is preparing her forts for a defense of the country. It is generally believed here that Holland will take prompt and decisive action.

BIG FIRE IN WINSTED, CONN.

State Armory and Several Other Buildings Are Destroyed.

Winsted, Conn.—The borough of Winsted was visited by a fire Sunday in which the state armory, containing the largest hall in northwestern Connecticut, the Odd Fellows' block and the Manchester building were destroyed, and fully a dozen other buildings caught fire and were badly damaged, the entire loss being placed at $80,000. During the course of the fire fully a dozen persons were taken from the upper stories of the Odd Fellows' block and the Manchester building, the fire cutting off their escape by the usual exits. No one was injured.

MARINES BITTEN BY MAD DOG.

Twelve Men Brought Home from Isthmus for Treatment.

New York.—Hurryling to Washington, where they are to receive the post-treatment as a precaution against hydrophobia, a party of 12 men, members of the United States marine corps and victims of the bites of a rabid dog on the Isthmus of Panama, arrived here Sunday on the Panama liner Finance. The party comprised ten privates of the marine corps in charge of a sergeant, and Maj. G. H. Russell.

Americans Win in Paris.

Paris.—The last day of the special athletic games brought great success to the visiting Americans, who captured a majority of the events. William F. Hamilton, Chicago A. A., won the 100-meter dash from scratch. His time was 11 seconds. H. L. Truhe, N. Y. A. C., took the 1,500-meter run in four minutes 12 seconds. E. T. Cook, Cornell, won the polo vault. The 400-meter flat race went to J. C. Carpenter, Cornell, who negotiated the distance in 50 seconds flat. H. A. Gidney, Boston A. A., captured the high jump.

Farman Makes Public Flight.

New York.—Henri Farman, who came from Paris to give a series of aeroplane exhibitions under the management of an American syndicate, made his first public flight in this country at the Brighton Beach race track Sunday evening.

Shoots Husband Who Beats Her.

Canonsburg, Pa.—While whipping his wife during a domestic quarrel Sunday Frank Talmer was shot through the abdomen by Mrs. Talmer. He was taken to a hospital probably fatally injured, while the woman is at her home unconscious.

Two Wisconsin Men Drowned.

Marquette, Mich.—Peter Linder of Antigo, Wis., and his young brother-in-law, John McEshaver of Ewen, were drowned Sunday while bathing in the Ontonagon river at Ewen.

WAS TOO MUCH FOR PAPA.

Childish Questions Were Becoming Entirely Too Personal.

There is a member of the faculty of George Washington university, who, to use the words of a colleague, "is as round physically as he is profound metaphysically," says the Philadelphia Ledger.

One day the professor chanced to come upon his children, of which he has a number, all of whom were, to his astonishment, engaged in an earnest discussion of the meaning of the word "absolute."

"Dad," queried one of the youngsters, "can a man be absolutely good?"

"No."

"Dad," put in another youngster, "can a man be absolutely bad?"

"No."

"Papa," ventured the third child, a girl, "can a man be absolutely fat?"

Whereupon the father fled incontinently.

IT SEEMED INCURABLE.

Body Raw with Eczema—Discharged from Hospitals as Hopeless—Cuticura Remedies Cured Him.

"From the age of three months until fifteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable by eczema in its worst form. In spite of treatments the disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw. He used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep and the agony he went through is quite beyond words. The regimental doctor pronounced the case hopeless. We had him in hospitals four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable. We kept trying remedy after remedy, but had gotten almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago we purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured. Mrs. Lily Hedge, Cambrowell Green, England, Jan. 12, 1907."

LEAP-YEAR LAUGH.

"You look worried, old man!"

"Yes. Had three proposals last night and I don't know which one I ought to accept!"

Hall Caine's Early Life.

Hall Caine is writing his life story. He tells how he first saw life by driving with his uncle at the age of five from the lonely hamlet behind Snafell to what he thought must be "a vast and mighty city." It was Douglas, with its 10,000 inhabitants. His first nickname was "Hommy-beg," the Manx for "little Tommy." His grandmother christened him thus. "I think I must have been much in her company," he says, "for I have the clearest memory of countless stories she told me of fairies and witches and the evil eye. My Manx grandmother was a poet."

Near Dead.

The ship doctor of an English liner notified the deathwatch steward, an Irishman, that a man had died in stateroom 45. The usual instructions to bury the body were given. Some hours later the doctor pecked into the room and found that the body was still there. He called the Irishman's attention to the matter, and the latter replied:

"I thought you said room 26. I went to that room and noticed was of him in a bunk. 'Are ye dead?' says I. 'No,' says he, 'but I'm pretty near dead.' So I buried him."—The Wasp.

WONDERED WHY.

Found the Answer Was "Coffee."

Many pale, sickly persons wonder for years why they have to suffer so, and eventually discover that the drug—caffeine—in coffee is the main cause of the trouble.

"I was always very fond of coffee and drank it every day. I never had much flesh and often wondered why I was always so pale, thin and weak. 'About five years ago my health completely broke down and I was confined to my bed. My stomach was in such condition that I could hardly take sufficient nourishment to sustain life."

"During this time I was drinking coffee, didn't think I could do without it."

"After awhile I came to the conclusion that coffee was hurting me, and decided to give it up and try Postum. I didn't like the taste of it at first, but when it was made right—billed until dark and rich—I soon became very fond of it."

"In one week I began to feel better. I could eat more and sleep better. My sick headaches were less frequent, and within five months I looked and felt like a new being, headache spells entirely gone."

"My health continued to improve and today I am well and strong, weigh 138 lbs. I attribute my present health to the life-giving qualities of Postum."

"There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

One of the Essentials of the happy homes of to-day is a vast fund of information as to the best methods of promoting health and happiness and right living and knowledge of the world's best products.

Products of actual excellence and reasonable claims truthfully presented and which have attained to world-wide acceptance through the approval of the Well-Informed of the World; not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting and obtaining the best the world affords.

One of the products of that class, of known component parts, an Ethical remedy, approved by physicians and commended by the Well-Informed of the World as a valuable and wholesome family laxative is the well-known Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

Libby's Sweet Mixed Pickles

That firm, crisp quality and delicious flavor is what you get when you insist on Libby's Mixed Pickles at your dealers.

They are always the finest and never disappoint. It's the same with Libby's Sweet Cherkins and Sweet Midgets. Ask for them.

Libby's Olives

The cultivation of centuries marks the olive groves of Spain as the world's best.

Libby's Olives are imported from the oldest and most famous of these groves. The result is a rare product, delightfully appetizing. Try one bottle and you'll buy more and never be without them.

Libby's Preserves

Pure, ripe fruit and pure sugar in equal parts, cooked just right and timed to the second, in Libby's Great White Kitchen, is the secret of the extreme superiority of Libby's Preserves. There is none as good at any price.

Grocers and delicatessen stores carry all of Libby's Food Products. They are warranted the best to both you and the dealer.

Write for free booklet—"How to Pick Food Things to Eat."

Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago.

KNOWN SINCE 1836 AS RELIABLE

PLANTEN'S C & C OR BLACK CAPSULES

SUPERIOR REMEDY FOR UNCLE SAM'S DISCHARGES AND DRUGGISTS OR BY MAIL IN RECEIPT OF 50c. PLANTEN & SON, 25 N. 2ND ST., ST. LOUIS, MO.

ECZEMA

A positive cure for Eczema and similar Skin Diseases, Pimples, etc. Satisfactory results guaranteed or money refunded. Price $1.00. Address, WM. LOUDON, 1637 20th Ave., Seattle, Wash.

YOUNG MEN

Submitted by Our Very Able Staff of Correspondents

MILLBURN

his appearance throughout Lake County, especially in Lake Villa.

ty in evidence when they masquerade as jewelry."

HICKORY

In evidence when they masquerade as jewelry."

PATIENTS

PAIN

PAIN

J. H. SWAN.

Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets

J. H. SWAN.

WORK SHOES

100-3076

ANTIOCH CASH SHOE STORE

EARLY JUNE SALE

DRY GOODS

OXFORD SPECIAL

$2.75 Ladies Patent leather oxfords.....	$2.25
$2.50 Ladies Patent leather oxfords.....	2.00

WALL PAPER

EGOS

We are now in the market for a large number of Fresh laid clean eggs and will pay highest market price.

F. D. BATTERSHALL

General Merchandise

Grayslake, Illinois

TIFFANY & FELTER

Union Block Antioch, Ill.

FARM MACHINERY--Now is the time to purchase your farm machinery. We carry the largest and most dependable line ever shown in the locality and the prices quoted are the very lowest.

BUGGIES AND WAGONS—We carry the famous Staver, Henny, Studebaker and Northwestern buggies and the well known Stoughton Wagons. Call and inspect our line and let us quote you prices.

SPECIAL

For one week only commencing on THURSDAY, JULY 23
 We will sell good, clean baled hay, warranted strictly all timothy, at the exceeding low price of, 50c per bale.....

SHELF HARDWARE Our line of Shelf Hardware is the best and most complete to be found anywhere in the surrounding country and our prices are the lowest possible consistent with good goods.

BALED HAY We have a large quantity of baled timothy hay, which we are offering for sale at a popular price.

CUTLERY We have the newest and largest line of cutlery ever displayed in this vicinity. Prices are right.

TIFFANY & FELTER

Union Block ===== Antioch, Ill.

TOBACCO

with valuable tags

Save your tags from

HORSE SHOE J. T. STANDARD NAVY
TINSLEY'S 16-oz., Natural Leaf
SPEAR HEAD

Master Workman Sailor's Pride
Eglantine
Granger Twist

Pick Jolly Tar
Ivy
Old Statesman

Big Four Old Paach
Old Honesty
Black Bear

Tenpenny Bridle Bit
W. N. Tinsley's Natural Leaf

Tags from the above brands are good for the following and many other useful presents as shown by catalog:

Gold Cuff Buttons—50 Tags
Fountain Pen—100 Tags
English Steel Razor—50 Tags
Gentleman's Watch—200 Tags
French Briar Pipe—50 Tags
Leather Pocketbook—80 Tags

Steel Carving Set—200 Tags
Best Steel Shears—75 Tags
Lady's Pocketbook—50 Tags
Pocket Knife—40 Tags
Playing Cards—30 Tags
60-yd. Fishing Reel—60 Tags

Many merchants have supplied themselves with presents with which to redeem tags. If you cannot have your tags redeemed at home, write us for catalog. PREMIUM DEPARTMENT

PREMIUM DEPARTMENT
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., St. Louis, Mo.